Washington Avenue Home Guttled

City firemen fought fierce flames which devoured the interior and furnishings of the Max Miller home, 3103 Washington Avenue, today. But in the few minutes between the time they were summoned and the moment their equipment was brought into play, Mr. and Mrs.

Miller and their four-year-old son lost their small frame dwelling. The alarm came a few minutes after 9. Fire was controlled within ten minutes. Mrs. Miller and Richard, her little boy who cried alarm, are pictured inset. (Times Photos by Bill Halkett.)

MAYOR PROTESTS CHANGE IN PAY PHONE SLOTS

Mayor Claude Harrison today protested to the Board of Transport Commissioners at Ottawa that the B.C. Telephone Co. is converting pay phones in anticipation of a 10-cent toll. "We are converting for 10-cent operation," a telephone company spokesman at Vancouver told the Times.

He said the change in mechanism is being made in case the Board of Transport Commissioners approves the application for a boost from the present 5 cents to 10 cents in the pay toll charge.

Soviet Plane Service Poor

Exclusive on Vancouver Island

Following is one of a series of articles by a well-known Montreal editor and publisher who spent September behind the Iron Curtain with an invitation to the World Peace Congress in Peking. "Here, in Siberia," said the airport manager in Irkutsk, "we only fly in daylight for reasons of security."

Yet, from Irkutsk to Moscow, on our trip we flew strictly at night. This gives you, in a nutshell, a fair idea of the fantastic lack of punctuality in schedules of Soviet civil airlines. You're travelling in the dark. You never know in advance at what time you will board the airplane, what or when will be the next stop or at what time you will reach your ultimate destination.

In the West, we have become accustomed to the punctual schedules of civil airlines. In Soviet Russia the opposite is true, if my experience in flying aboard red-starred airliners from Prague to Peking and back typifies civil air service.

Air-France posts a time of 38 hours flying from Paris to Tokyo. The planes of KLM (Dutch) cover the distance from Holland to Indonesia in less than 48 hours. Consider that it took us four days to fly from Moscow to Peking and six days from Peking back to Paris.

I have flown in the airplanes of Trans-Canada, Air France, Sabena and Pan American Airways. In comparison the Soviet planes are as outmoded as the horse-and-buggy beside a 1952 limousine.

On my trip I touched at Prague, Warsaw, Minsk, Moscow, Kazan, Sverdlovsk, Omsk, Krasnodar, Novosibirsk, Irkutsk, Ulan, Bator, Sain-Shanda and Peking. During all these travels we were flown in nothing but two-motor planes, with a capacity of 12 or 14 passengers. Only once, at Irkutsk, did I see a four-motor plane.

AIRBORNE AUSTERITY

The airplanes are strictly functional, being equipped only with the bare essentials. A fuselage, two motors and seats. No concessions are made either to the comfort or the security of passengers, no safety belt is provided for landings and take-offs, no blankets are provided against the cold and the air-conditioning is often defective. It's either too hot or too cold; nobody cares. No hot meals are served.

MOTHER, SON FLEE BURNING DWELLING

$5,000 Damage Estimated as Fire Destroys Home; Husband at Work

Mrs. Max Miller had time only to see her four-year-old son to safety, snatch down the phone to call firemen and pull a sweater over her nightgown before fleeing from flames which destroyed her home today.

The house at 3103 Washington Avenue, of wood construction, and almost all its furnishings, are considered a total loss. Their value is estimated at $5,000, including furniture, partly covered by insurance.

City firemen got the alarm at 9:04 a.m. and had the fire under control within 10 minutes. Two pump trucks and a service truck attended. Deputy Fire Chief James Bayliss directing operations.

The deputy chief believes the fire started in a woodbox near a kitchen stove.

After her husband had had breakfast and left for work, Mrs. Miller said she lay down for a brief rest and became aware of the fire when she smelled smoke.

At the same time, her son, Richard, fully dressed and playing in the living room, started crying. "Mamma, there's a fire!"

Investigating, Mrs. Miller found the kitchen a mass of flames. She rushed the young, stout out of the house, called the fire department on her own telephone and then joined the boy in the chilly outdoors.

RAPID SPREAD

The flames quickly spread to other parts of the house and smoke was pouring from all the heat-shattered windows when the fire-fighters arrived. Only the front bedroom and the bathroom escaped the flames.

Police brought Mr. Miller home from his work on the demolition of an old house on St. Charles Street.

Fronting the gutted house are the foundations of the new home Mr. Miller is in the process of building.

Mrs. Clara Campbell, 3107 Washington, a neighbor, gave the shivering mother and boy shelter.

Firemen were forced to hack holes in the shingled roof to get at flames in the attic.

Death Toll From Blizzard Placed at 22

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (BUP)—A howling blizzard that caused the death of at least 22 persons in the United States whistled north into Canada's prairie provinces today.

The storm was riding high, however, and headed for the Hudson Bay area. It was growing steadily weaker after lashing a huge area from the Texas Panhandle to Minnesota, for two days.

The first United Press tabulation of holiday fatalities showed that eight persons had been killed. It included three home-bound college students.

14 Perish In Fire at Mental Home

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 27 (AP)—Roaring flames and syrup-thick smoke killed 14 women and children in an old three-story building at the Huntington State Hospital, a mental institution.

Ten others—seven patients and three firemen—were taken to hospital.

Flames sprang from the basement of the 56-year-old building early Wednesday night and spread rapidly through the first and second floors. Firemen had to burn through thick wire mesh over the windows with acetylene torches to fight the blaze and rescue the near-helpless victims.

The dead ranged from 89-year-old Ada Carger to little Lena Wentz, 11, one of the five girls under 16 who smothered on the third floor. All those who died were from West Virginia.

New Coin

This is the design for the new uncrowned effigy of Queen Elizabeth II on Canadian coins that will be struck at the Royal Canadian Mint at Ottawa. The design was made by Mrs. Mary Gillick, 71, a native of Nottingham, Eng.—first woman artist to design a Canadian coin. They will be ready for issue to the public through Canadian banks early next year.—(C.P. photo.)

Board Proposes 16c Hike for Rail Men

PREMIER TO FIX DATE OF SESSION NEXT WEEK

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today that the date of the start of the 1953 session of the Legislature will be announced next week.

Name of the new Speaker of the Legislature will be revealed at the same time, he said.

The Premier is awaiting a full cabinet meeting before the final decision is made.

11 Czech Chiefs Doomed to Hang

Red Regime Orders Noose For All But 3 'Traitors'

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 27 (Reuters)—The Czech Communist regime today ordered the hangman's noose for 11 one-time party chiefs doomed in the greatest purge trial yet staged by the Iron Curtain state.

The remaining three of the 14 on trial were jailed for life.

Rudolf Slansky, once secretary-general of the Communist party in Czechoslovakia, and Vladimir Clementis, former foreign minister, both received the death sentence.

The sentences were announced today by the official state radio in Prague after a six-day trial.

All 14 pleaded guilty and confessed to all the charges thrown at them.

They were accused of almost everything in the Communist book: spying for the West, plotting with Yugoslavia, sabotaging the Communist economy and—for the first time in a Communist country—they were openly charged with Zionism.

The trial was sprinkled daily with charges of an anti-Jewish character and has drawn strong protests from the state of Israel.

Slansky is 51, Clementis 50.

ALL BUT THREE JEWS

All but three of the defendants are Jews. The violent attacks on Zionism during the week-long trial was reported to have unleashed a wave of terror through other east European Communist states, where many other Jews hold high places.

Sentenced to life were Arthur London, 37, and Navro Hadju, 39, former deputy foreign ministers, and Evzen Loeb, 46, former deputy minister of foreign trade.

Radio Prague said all the defendants accepted the sentences.

Explaining the life terms, the broadcast said London, Loeb and Hadju "did not play a leading role" in the alleged conspiracy.

"They only followed the orders of Slansky and Clementis. They did not take any individual initiative. They were merely links."

SENTENCED TO DEATH

Besides Slansky and Clementis, those sentenced to death were: Bedrich Gendiner, 51, former Moscow agent in Prague; Andre Simon, 57, former editor of Rude Pravo, the Czech Communist party paper; Vlodvik Prejka, 48, former party deputy secretary-general and government economic adviser; Josef Frank, 43, and Orv Ulling, 43, former party deputy secretary; Rudolf Margolius, 39, former deputy minister of foreign trade; Otto Fischl, 50, former deputy finance minister; Karol Svab, former deputy minister of state security; and Lt.-Gen. Bedrich Reicin, 41, Moscow-trained intelligence man and former deputy defense minister.

All are Jews except Clementis, Svab and Frank.

The Jew-baited trial was the biggest since the famous Moscow purge hearings of 1936.

Government To Investigate Price Spread

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP)—Kenneth Kiernan, British Columbia Agriculture Minister, said Wednesday the price spread between what the producer receives and the consumer pays appears "on the surface, at least" to be unreasonable.

"Our department is going to keep a little closer eye on what is going on," the minister told the annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture.

Minority Would Offer 26c Against 45c Demand

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—The majority report of a federal conciliation board today recommended an average wage increase of 16 cents an hour for non-operating railway workers engaged in a four-month dispute with the companies.

A minority report proposed an average increase of 26 cents an hour.

Unions representing the 125,000 non-operating employees—those who do not actually run the trains—have been asking an across-the-board increase of 45 cents an hour.

In Montreal today more than 100 railway union representatives went into closed sessions to study the majority report of the federal conciliation board.

Spokesman for the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, in dispute with the unions over the wage issues, said a joint statement is in preparation but may not be issued until Friday.

Besides splitting on the major wage issue, the three-man board also differed on other points at stake, though it agreed to recommend the union's demand for the check-off of dues.

The majority report of Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada and Paul Smith, company nominee, ruled as follows:

MAJORITY RECOMMENDATIONS

1. An average wage increase of 16 cents an hour, made up of a combination of percentage and cents per hour. Unions asked 45 cents an hour.

2. The check-off of union dues by the railways.

3. Removal of a 1950 contract clause restricting employees' overtime pay in the event of a declared national emergency.

4. No union shop.

5. No escalator wage clause.

6. Effective date of one-year contract when final agreement is reached.

MINORITY RECOMMENDATIONS

1. An average wage increase of 26 cents an hour, also a combination of percentage and cents per hour.

2. An escalator clause to give employees a further increase of one cent an hour for each point rise in the cost-of-living index.

3. The union shop, which would compel employees covered by the contracts to belong to one or another of the unions involved.

4. The check-off.

The majority report is the governing one. However, the findings are not binding. They are merely recommendations for settlement made to the parties through Labor Minister Gregg.

U.N. Approval of Peace Plan May Come Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 27 (UP)—India's compromise Korean peace formula neared a vote in the United Nations political committee today. Prospects were for overwhelming passage with American approval.

Although American officials, from Secretary of State Dean Acheson down, refused to confirm it, highly reliable diplomatic sources said Acheson himself told a caucus of the 20-nation Latin-American bloc Wednesday night that the United States would support the third version of the Indian measure, provided that a Danish amendment is included.

Despite Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky's announcement that both Russia and Communist China rejected the Indian plan, American support assured an overwhelming passage for it when the 50-nation political committee votes.

Committee chairman Joao Carlos Muniz of Brazil called a Thanksgiving afternoon session to push the compromise proposal to a vote. But observers saw little hope of a ballot today. The Ukraine, Australia and Canada were officially listed to speak, and it was understood that Russia, Britain and the U.S. also wanted another turn in the debate before a vote is made.

HOUSE OF LORDS IN UPROAR

LONDON, Nov. 27 (Reuters).—Lord Stansgate threw the House of Lords into an uproar by accusing the government of using dogs against anti-white Mau Mau suspects in Kenya—"including women and little children."

In an attack Wednesday night on the collective-punishment policy, he also declared that some Africans were carried off in chains without preferring charges against them. The accusations were denied by Lord Munster, colonial under-secretary.

When the leader of the House, Lord Salisbury, demanded the source of his information, Stansgate said it was the Times of London and a friend "in a position of standing."

The uproar came during a debate on the government's new policy of punishing whole villages in Kenya where anti-white Mau Mau activities have broken out.

Stansgate termed "nauseating" the oath-taking ceremony by which a witch doctor dispels the Mau Mau oath taken by tribesmen. He said the witch doctor kills a sheep and then instructs a tribesman to eat its eyes.

The debate ended without a vote.

NAIROBI, Kenya, Nov. 27 (Reuters).—A murder and a jungle ambush featured a new outbreak of Mau Mau terrorism today.

Police found the mutilated body of an African-nominate member of Nairobi city council, Tom Mbotela, today. Mbotela

Wage Boost Would Benefit Island Workers

More than 1,000 wage-earners on Vancouver Island will be affected directly and indirectly by the outcome of current negotiations of non-operating railway workers with the railroads.

Robert Smeal, representative of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers, said here today that maintenance men, office workers, and others not directly employed by the railroads, will gain equally.

A majority recommendation of the federal conciliation board hearing the four months' dispute, announced today, was for a wage increase of 16 cents per hour across the board. The minority award was for 25 cents, and the unions asked 45 cents.

"I would say the employees were pleased with the recommendations," Mr. Smeal said, "but I don't know if they will accept them. They still feel they deserve the 45 cents they asked for."

Visibility 50 Yards In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 27 (BUP)—British Columbia's coastal area today went into the fifth straight day of a "fog spell" that slowed highway and sea traffic and grounded airlines.

A Vancouver police traffic patrol officer reported visibility was down to about 50 yards. Motorists, driving with their lights on, moved at a snail's pace.

No sea accidents occurred Wednesday night as freighters and passenger boats nosed into coastal harbors with the aid of radar.

Commercial and military flying was grounded at the Vancouver international airport for the second straight day with visibility "nil."

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

WHILE in the interior recently I learned an intriguing bit of early church history which has a well-deserved place in the folk-lore annals of British Columbia. It is the story of St. Peter's, "the stolen church," an attractive and well-preserved little Anglican mission at Windermere, which I saw during my visit to the lovely Columbia Valley.

It goes back to 1887, the year in which the Canadian Pacific Railway had been completed through the Selkirk to Donald, its first mountain divisional headquarters. The little town thus became the government, business, social and religious centre for all British Columbia east of Kamloops.

FATHER PAT

THANKS to the energy of Rev. Henry Irwin, Anglican missionary who was affectionately known as "Father Pat" all along the main line territory, the first church of any denomination in the Rockies was built at Donald.

Baroness Burdett-Coutts, the philanthropist who did so much for the pioneer Anglican churches of British Columbia, sent a gift of a beautiful silver-toned bell from England, the Anglican Theological College at Lichfield, England, presented a handsomely-bound Bible. Bishop Sillitoe of New Westminster diocese consecrated the little church on Feb. 24, 1889.

REVELSTOKE JEALOUS

ACCORDING to local legend, Revelstoke was quite jealous of the religious status given to Donald by the new church, the former community having to make do by sharing an improvised schoolhouse with other denominations. But ten years later, railway and commercial development saw Revelstoke succeeding Donald as the divisional point.

The C.P.R. gave every facility to their employees to move their homes, goods and chattels to the new centre, and even encouraged them to take the Odd Fellows' Hall, knocked down. And the Synd of New Westminster, which had jurisdiction over the Kootenays—bearing of the wholesale removal, presented the Donald church to St. Peter's, Revelstoke, which needed a church.

FOUND IT MISSING

HOWEVER, when the Revelstoke people looked for the Donald church it couldn't be found. Finally it was located at Windermere and despite the demands of the ecclesiastical authorities to return the church either to Donald or Revelstoke, it has remained in Windermere to this day.

What happened was that a zealous churchman, Rufus Kimpton, a prosperous merchant of Donald and devoted admirer of "Father Pat," took the matter into his own hands. When the wholesale removal took place from Donald, he decided to move to Windermere where he had business associations in what was beginning to be a thriving community. But he and his wife hated to leave the church they loved, so, without a by your leave from anyone, he had the wooden structure pulled down.

STOLE THE BELL

THE railroad moved it to Golden, where Mr. Kimpton had arranged for special barge transportation to take the dismantled building down to Windermere. While it lay at Golden someone—"respectable Anglicans," according to the local legend—made off with the Baroness's bell.

The "thieves" were traced, but adamantly refused to return the bell as, according to them, it had, in the first place, been stolen by Windermere. So the stolen bell still calls good Anglicans to prayer in Golden.

MONUMENT TO BOTH

TODAY, in the lovely little "stolen" church at Windermere, its register records the earliest labors of "Father Pat" over a wide—and then wild—territory that embraced Donald, Windermere, Golden, Field, Beaver, Revelstoke, Vernon, the Okanagan, the Boundary, Canal Flats and as far south as Bonners Ferry, Idaho. And in its grounds a handsome granite memorial attests to the popularity of the missionary, who died in 1902.

And it seems only fitting that Rufus Kimpton, who died in 1934, was buried from the little church that he and his wife "stole." It was his son who told me this little human interest story of pioneer religious zeal in this province.

Tory Blasts Liberal Spending

Fleming Charges Government With Blunders and 'Financing' Votes

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—A front-bench Progressive Conservative says the Liberal government is guilty of "unparalleled blunders in national financing," and charges it is spending recklessly in hopes of influencing voters before the next election.

Donald Fleming, member for Toronto Eglinton, said Wednesday in the Commons that "the thought of this government is that if they spend money they makes votes; and that is the reason why the only reason why you see these reckless expenditures being made at the present time."

"The Canadian taxpayer is bleeding; his blood is running fast," Fleming said. "The charges brought from John Dickey, parliamentary assistant to Production Minister Howe, a reply that the Progressive Conservatives are using 'half-truths' and 'baseless suggestions' to try to damage the government politically."

Progressive Conservative members talked of huge purchases of rugs and boots and other stores, he said. But they did not give the whole picture. These things had all been discussed and explained before the defense expenditures committee last year.

Questions TV, Defense Buying

In promising to consider private stations only at points where the CBC did not plan or already have TV stations, the government had thrown private radio "a bone from which all meat and nourishment has been removed."

The Toronto member noted that Prime Minister St. Laurent had said in a speech Monday that some large orders for defense goods might have been different if they had gone through the hands of Defense Minister Claxton or his deputy.

Stalling on Health Plan: C.C.F.

Stanley Knowles, C.C.F.-Winnipeg North Centre, said the government had been stalling since 1919 on national health insurance. While sections of the population were without proper medical care because they could not afford it. Some people were "dying unnecessarily."

Old age pensions should be boosted to $60 a month from $40 and the means test removed from blind pensions and veterans' allowances.

Fred Larson, L.-Kindersley, said part of Britain's trade difficulties might be due to her costly national health insurance plan. As for defense spending, he said no one had even been able to make stick any charges against the government of fraud or improper diversion of funds.

On the western front, Allied raiding parties shot up two Communist positions near Panmunjom—site of the suspended truce talks—and Yonchon, some 20 miles to the northeast. The raiders returned to their lines after sharp skirmishes.

The Chinese jabs on the central front were preceded by a heavy artillery and mortar barrage. Then more than 150 Reds hit the northern slopes of Pinpoint Hill, dominant height on Sniper Ridge.

'DON'T LIKE CLAXTON' REPORT CANADIANS BACK FROM GERMANY

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (BUP)—Reports of low morale among Canadian soldiers in Germany were supported today up here by repatriated soldiers who told of poor leave facilities, inter-regimental fights and heavy drinking to escape monotony.

"The boys don't think much of Brooke Claxton," one man said. "They don't like the way he runs things." Claxton, as defense minister, has repeatedly denied reports of poor conditions in the 27th Brigade stationed in Hannover.

Rt. Hon. Graham Osmond, First Canadian Rifle Battalion, said that compared to Canadian soldiers, "the British boys have everything."

He returned here Wednesday and complained that all available entertainment was provided by an English outfit, and it was not what his regiment wanted.

Pte. Robert Strachan, 27th C.I.B. Ordnance Company, said there was a great deal of bawling among regiments in the brigade, much more than broke out between Germans and Canadians.

Ike Forgets Problems, Enjoys Turkey Dinner

All But Two Cabinet Positions Filled With Naming of Rogers and Vandenberg

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower put aside the problems of state for today and, like any other American, set down to a Thanksgiving turkey dinner with his family.

The general could look back on an arduous week.

He now has named all but two of the nine members of his cabinet. The secretaries of labor and commerce are not yet designated. Along with that, Eisenhower announced his choices for a number of other top-level offices in the administration he is forming.

Eisenhower announced Wednesday designations of two more men for key posts.

They were William P. Rogers, for the office of deputy attorney general, and Arthur Vandenberg, Jr., as White House secretary. Rogers, 39, made a reputation as special counsel for senate committees that investigated cases involving corruption in government and disloyalty.

Vandenberg, 45, was an assistant to his father, the late Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan. Eisenhower conferred Wednesday with Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower. Mrs. Rosenberg returned from Korea last week-end.

She disclosed few details to reporters.

However, she said she was "amazed at the improvement in the South Korean army." She called the Republic of Korea forces "first class."

New Delay Reported In Seaway Project

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP)—The Globe and Mail said today that construction of the St. Lawrence power and seaway project will likely be delayed another 18 months by court action in the United States, although the International Joint Commission approved the scheme last month and the Ontario-Hydro is ready to start at once.

In a newspaper story, the newspaper quoted C. M. Goetz, lawyer for the New York State Power Authority, as saying that if due processes of U.S. law are followed the Supreme Court will be asked to decide the argument in the spring of 1954. The N.Y.S.P.A. hopes to join the Ontario Hydro Commission in the power phase.

"Regardless of which way decisions go both sides seem determined to carry the scrap to the highest court," the story said.

Good home ventilation is necessary and, especially at night, windows should be opened sufficiently to allow the stale air to escape and fresh air to enter.

Round-Up of Terrorists Continues in Kenya

While a controversy rages in the British House of Commons over Mau Mau terrorism in the East African colony of Kenya, police continue to arrest suspected terrorists.

Labor May Attempt to Unseat Tory Govt. Over Mau Mau Terrorism

BY LEROY POPE
United Press News Analyst
The British Laborites are becoming so excited over the Mau Mau terrorism in the big East African colony of Kenya that they might try to unseat Winston Churchill's government on the issue.
The Laborites are opposing the tough measures taken by Colonial Secretary Oliver Lyttelton to suppress the terrorism of the Mau Mau society, which has killed dozens of natives and several Britons in recent weeks.
On Lyttelton's order, Kenya governor Sir Evelyn Baring has moved one entire village of 2,000 people with their cattle into a concentration camp. He has given local police authority to

Eaton's Veterans Get First Escalator Ride

Official opening of a new escalator system at T. Eaton Company store today was a "family affair" with long service employees doing the honors.
They cut the ribbon and took the first ride on what manager William Gilmour called "an outstanding improvement to the Victoria store."
"It's like going from the horse and buggy days to the Rolls Royce stage," laughed Miss Clara Graham, senior woman staff member with more than 40 years' service, who cut the ribbon and led the escalator parade.
"There are a lot of changes in 40 years."
Neil Bergstrom, senior male employee, also with the company more than 40 years, who assisted in the ceremony, agreed.
Speaking for the Quarter Century Club, whose members were given corsages and boutonnieres prior to the ceremony, Cliff Rutledge, sales promotion manager and M.C., said the escalator was probably the best addition in the 25 years.
Lights twinkled on the frosted blue Christmas trees on the main floor of the store as the 600-member staff gathered half an hour before store opening time, for the ceremony.
F. E. West, assistant general manager of T. Eaton Co. (British Columbia) Limited, assisted by Mr. Gilmour, presented Miss Graham with a bouquet of flowers and a pair of gold-plated scissors for cutting the ribbon.

Miss Clara Graham, senior woman staff member, led "escalator parade" after cutting ribbon at entrance to "moving staircase."

They were flanked by members of the Quarter Century Club, which has 45 active members in Victoria with a total of 1,381 years service between them.

Canuck Turns $1,000 Into $1,000,000

Oil Lease Ventures Bring Quick Fortune

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (BUP)—Government records revealed today how one man has parlayed a $1,000 investment into $1,000,000 in seven months in United States and Canadian oil lease ventures.
The man is Wilbur J. Griffith, president of Canadian Prospects Ltd., of Calgary, Alta. His company has filed an application with the Securities and Exchange Commission to register 303,395 shares of common stock, some of which it wants to sell in this country.
The company's prospectus of the new stock offering calls it "speculative securities."
The company now has leases on almost 5,000,000 acres of land in North and South Dakota and western Canada—all of unproven land.
Griffith organized the company in May, 1950, to buy and sell oil leases. He and his sister owned 966 of the original 1,000 $1 shares, according to the prospectus.
Last January, the company offered another 315,000 shares for sale and sold 95,000 of them to New York underwriters at $100 per share, or a total of $9,500,000.
Later each share was divided into three shares. That normally would reduce the price to one-third of its value, but the prospectus says the stock has been selling for $6 to $7.88.
The prospectus indicates Griffith owns about 500,000 shares now. At $6 per share, this equals $3,000,000 of stock.
According to the prospectus, Griffith was a Mt. Vernon, Ill., oil broker before he got into the northwestern land-leasing business. He set up a similar operation in Denver in 1950.
The commission has three weeks in which to act on the application of registration for the new stock.

Thought He Worked For the Store—First

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP)—When H. Brummit walked into a confectionery store here Tuesday night the man at the cash register told him: "Just a minute and I'll have someone look after you."
The man punched open the cash box, took out $50 and walked out. Then the proprietor, who had been shoved to the back of the store, had a chance to yell, "hold-up."
"I thought he worked for the store he seemed so sure of himself," said Brummit.

Phone Rate Ruling Expected Next Week

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—The board of transport commissioners promises a quick decision on an application of the British Columbia Telephone Co. for "interim" increases in its phone charges.
At the end of a three-day hearing on the case, Mr. Justice John D. Kearney, chief commissioner, said Wednesday the board hopes to have a verdict by early next week on the company's request for boosts on a $2,451,000-a-year scale.
That decision will stand pending fuller hearings in B.C.—expected about February—on the whole of a company application which in all seeks increases of $2,959,000 a year.

The Hotel Men's Protest

SOME SERIOUS CHARGES ARE leveled at the British Columbia Liquor Control Board in a brief prepared by 92 hotel operators for submission to the Stevens inquiry committee. In this lengthy document the hotel men allege that officials of the Liquor Board have been guilty of favoritism and discrimination in the issuance of beer licenses.

These protests arise out of the so-called standard hotel regulations, enforced under provincial legislation. The hotel men say that this legislation was "rushed through" the legislature without the knowledge of the hotel interests. Under such authority, it is alleged, an official of the Liquor Board ordered various hotel proprietors to bring their establishments up to a standard fixed not by the legislature but entirely by the board itself. The brief adds that the beer licensees "wish to register the strongest kind of protest over this high-handed and inexperienced official's thumb rule."

In a specific case of alleged discrimination it is stated that the official compelled one country hotel operator to abandon his guest cabins while, only a few miles away, another operator was permitted to maintain similar cabins. Such "displays of partiality" are strongly condemned.

The present method of enforcing standard hotel regulations, the brief says, is creating an impossible situation. "To implement every whim of authority, without such being based on factual and practical understanding of the whole operation will wreck the hotel industry," it is stated. "The hotel industry is in a very chaotic condition today and unless a realistic approach is made to the implementation of this infamous standard hotel regulation a condition will be created that will bring on prohibition."

To cure these difficulties the brief proposes the creation of a non-political board of five members which would regulate hotels and discipline operators who disobeyed its regulations. The whole industry, it is urged, should be taken "out of politics." Secondly, the legislature itself should fix the standards which all hotels must meet and the present wide discretionary power of the Liquor Board should be ended.

By implication the hotel men admit that their beer parlors in many cases are unsatisfactory, as indeed they are. But this condition, the brief says, is "due to the present Liquor Control Board regulations. Where there is a controlled price (of beer) established, as we now have, those who would wish to cater to a more discriminating clientele cannot."

The operators ask the right to charge more for beer where they conduct attractive establishments—the system followed in Britain and most civilized countries. This seems to be a wholly reasonable proposal. And so is the request for the right to serve beer and liquors with foods and to entertain drinking and eating places with music and games.

The hotel men, of course, approach the whole liquor problem from the standpoint of self-interest. They are not in business for the fun of it. Perhaps there is another side to the story and a defense to be offered by the Liquor Control Board. But assuredly when 92 hotel operators combine to indict the board for partiality, ignorance and stupidity an answer is required.

It is to be hoped that the board of inquiry will insist on getting an answer for it is clear that both the hotel industry, or a large part of it, and the public are highly dissatisfied with existing conditions. The Liquor Control Board, for its part, is trying to maintain as best it may an impossible situation, which it did not create but for which it is blamed.

Smouldering Embers at Tofino

THE UNFORTUNATE MUDDLE in the release of information concerning the recent fire at the R.C.A.F. establishment near Tofino appears to have been due more to a misunderstanding of duties and responsibilities in the lower echelons than to high-level imposition of censorship.

The facts appear to be that a fire occurred at the base, that a garage and several trucks were burned and that the junior officer in charge decided that all information for the public must be released by his immediate superiors in Calgary. Such a situation appears normal enough.

Such abnormality as attaches to the case developed in the measures the junior officer took to enforce his decision. Apparently somewhat rattled by the disaster that had overtaken his command he proceeded to enforce excessive security safeguards. The government telephone operator at Tofino says she received orders to permit no information on the fire to be sent out of the community. The government telegraph office was similarly restricted. Local residents were warned away from the area. A severe blackout of news appears to have been imposed. This, coupled with a baffling "don't know, ask somebody else" attitude among the various officials approached for information, gave rise to a press complaint that the incident was being unduly hushed up.

Subsequent explanations appear simple enough. But the salient fact emerges that for several hours the civilian communication links of a Canadian community with the rest of the nation were controlled in peacetime by the military for its own ends and without proper cause. That this was done in an excess of zeal by a junior officer is beside the point.

The proper authorities should see to it that regulations are so clarified that such an incident cannot occur again. We must maintain our protection not only against unjust laws, but against misinterpretation, no matter how well-meant, of just ones.

Russia's Latest Mistake

IN ITS MAIN PURPOSE OF END-ing the Korean war the United Nations may fail, because Russia wants the fighting to continue. But even if it fails at the moment the United Nations has made important progress in the last few days.

Apparently the dangerous breach between the United States and its allies, on the exact terms of the Indian resolution, is being healed. More striking, the Indians themselves, who have always tried to be neutral in the world struggle, have learned the facts of international life. They know better now who their friends and enemies are.

The Indians regard their solution of the Korean problem as generous to the Communists—perhaps too generous, as the United States suspects. Yet even this offer is rejected by Mr. Vishinsky. He does not want a settlement. He wants a complete surrender from the west; or maybe he wants nothing which will end the fighting through which Russia profits at little cost to itself. In any case, by rejecting the Indian offer Russia has seriously quarreled with India, the greatest free community left in Asia. It has surely demonstrated to statesmen like Mr. Nehru that neutrality in this struggle is impossible.

In short, the Korean debate, whatever its effects on the war, has been invaluable in rallying the free world, in isolating the Communists, in revealing the great conspiracy as it has never been so clearly revealed before.

Russia may succeed in blocking a truce for the present. In the long run, by exposing its real designs it has suffered an incalculable moral and political defeat. It is losing one by one its potential friends and victims outside its own borders.

Constitutional Postscript

AS A KIND OF TRIUMPHANT postscript to his recent by-election victories Premier Bennett says he now has the right to ask for a dissolution of the legislature at his pleasure. Since Mr. Bennett does not intend to seek a dissolution but announces a general election for next year, the constitutional question raised by his latest statement is hypothetical only. But for the record it should be noted that in this matter the premier is quite wrong.

The victories of his two colleagues in Columbia and Similkameen have no bearing whatever on his right to a dissolution. Whether they show the public's full confidence in the government, as the premier believes, or not they do not touch the constitutional question.

The Crown is concerned only with the view of the legislature, which may or may not have confidence in the government. And the whole point of the constitutional argument is that the Crown cannot possibly know the will of the legislature until it meets and votes confidence or non-confidence.

Mr. Bennett wisely abandoned his original intention to seek a dissolution (which he probably would have been refused by the Crown), he has won his by-elections and is now in a satisfactory position to meet the legislature. It is difficult to understand, when he has thus scrupulously observed the constitution, why he should be at pains to argue that he could defy it if he chose.

LOOSE ENDS

The Shadows

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

WITH a profound sadness I have just said farewell to one of my best friends who is now lost to me forever. He has bought a television set.

The man who buys a television set departs from the world of living men and enters another world of shadows. I do not blame him. I suppose, I just too much for him as it is for millions of others. My friend does not realize, of course, that he is in full retreat from actuality. He supposes, on the contrary, that he is boldly advancing into the fiercer currents of these times by bringing the world, with its events and human figures, into his living room. That is the great current illusion. The shadows are mistaken for things.

Hutchison—My friend will now receive the best thoughts of the ablest minds in the world and see their faces as they deliver them. He will see events as they unfold at first hand, with a time lag of half a second or less. Of course he will. But he won't understand anything better. He will understand less than ever. For the grim, inescapable fact of human understanding is that it must be private, must come from within and cannot be plastered on like stucco from the outside. A man may secure knowledge from others. He will never secure understanding.

THE GAUDY CURTAIN
Now, television is a wonderful invention. I have no word to say against it, so long as it is confined to other people's houses where, in my weaker moments, I may see it occasionally free. But it brings no one closer to life. It merely interposes a gaudy curtain between life and the spectator. It is only the latest gadget contrived by thoughtful men to make sure that nobody does any real thinking for himself.

My friend will answer that he will now receive the best thoughts of the ablest minds in the world and see their faces as they deliver them. He will see events as they unfold at first hand, with a time lag of half a second or less. Of course he will. But he won't understand anything better. He will understand less than ever. For the grim, inescapable fact of human understanding is that it must be private, must come from within and cannot be plastered on like stucco from the outside. A man may secure knowledge from others. He will never secure understanding.

THE ASSEMBLY LINE
Though it is presented in a million different versions, the paramount problem of modern man is to find a satisfactory participation in modern life. And it is there that he is most obviously failing.

He can turn a screw on the assembly line but, as the finished automobile comes off at the end, he has no satisfaction in its creation. Or if he works in a white collar he can add up all the figures of business on an adding machine without once touching the realities of life as the country storekeeper touches them. He swarms in his multitudes to watch a hockey game, but he does not play hockey.

In other words, for the essential purposes of life, modern man is becoming a spectator, not a participant, a customer not a creator, a consumer in the main and only incidentally a producer. Thus by a law as old as Eden he becomes sick under a hectic outward flush. His physical diet is better than ever but he sickens by a secret malnutrition of the soul.

Television itself might help to cure this deficiency of diet if it worked both ways, if the spectator could listen to the statesman on the screen and then talk back to him and thus engage in the actual human contact of face-to-face debate.

The statesman on the screen takes no such chances. He talks but he does not hear. He utters his arguments but he does not listen to yours. In this process he is, in fact, no longer a statesman but an actor and the process reaches its theatrical climax when a soldier like General Eisenhower is made up with Hollywood cosmetics before facing the television camera.

THE PLAY'S THE THING
One does not blame General Eisenhower. This is all part of the show. And this is the whole point about these modern means of communication which actually communicate nothing whatever they produce a show.

The world demands a show just as the rootless mobs of Rome demanded bread and circuses because they could not bear to face the realities of a broken civilization. They covered up the cracks by the spectacle of the arena, and television, the radio and the movies cover them up by the same sort of spectacle, only slightly altered, while pretending that they are life when they are only a shadow to conceal it.

The argument between my friend and myself is too long to be concluded here. We may resume it later. In the meantime it is expressed in two simple facts. He has bought a television set so that he may see other people work and hear them think. I have bought a garden tractor, which also is a machine, and from now on, while apparently in control of it, I shall be working for it in the soil, and anything I can hear above the sound of its engine will be my own thoughts. They will be inferior thoughts, nothing like the splendid wit and learning of television, a poor thing but my own. And so, my friend, farewell.

PREFERABLE
I do not think I am so much bored as I was at 19. The proof is that then I must game or drink or be in motion of some kind, or I was miserable. At present I can mope in quietness, and like being alone better than any company, except the lady's whom I serve. But I feel a something which makes me think that if I ever reach near to old age, like Swift I shall "die at top" first. Only I do not dread idleness or madness so much as he did. On the contrary, I think some quieter stages of both must be preferable to much of what men think the possession of their senses.

Choosing Their Weapons

As Our Readers See It

T.L.C. BRIEF

I was very amused to read in the Times a few nights ago the pious expressions the T.L.C. (Labor) intends to lay before the liquor enquiry commission when next it comes to Victoria.

I imagine that just as every year they voice their blackmailing "demands" on their employers, so this time their tongues were substituted for what the average persons carries in the back of his head.

If these same men did a little work on Saturdays and rotated their visits to licensed premises the rest of the week the "overcrowded and unsanitary" conditions they complain of would evaporate overnight, together with the obscene language.

Incidentally members of their own outfit are largely instrumental in operating these houses. It would be interesting to know how many of these helped to frame the "Brief."

LIVING THEORY

Choosing a theory to live by may be either a matter of taste or of instruction. One in general use for centuries states we are creatures placed out of heaven with certain erring tendencies, and a need for outside or supernatural assistance and salvation. Another states we begin our earth existence at the animal level and have risen to a stage where proper conduct and hard work bring a fair return in the usual course of events.

The first is a Hebrew version of human nature in history, made adaptable for a Roman empire and supported by kings with military force in all Europe. It gave a great and continuous protest for the weak against the strong and fostered learning of the kind known as Christianity by setting up an authoritative priesthood committed to Faith, Hope and Charity, and also to the other considerable virtues known as the Good, the True and the Beautiful.

The more recently accepted theory provides for more self-reliance, more productive schemes for welfare and social science. And less of the dangers that spring out of human greed, neglect of duties, useless pride. It also provides a possible escape from paralyzing fear.

PHILIP HOLLOWAY,
R.R. 1, Saanichton.

RESOLUTION

In consideration of the present controversy concerning the C.B.C. and private radio and TV operation, your readers might be interested in the following resolution recently passed by the U.B.C. C.C.F. Club:

"Whereas private broadcasting stations have amply demonstrated their lack of social and cultural responsibility to the Canadian people, and whereas the C.B.C. stands as Canada's defense against rampant commercialization of the media of television and radio, and in light of the recommendations of the Massey report, we resolve that this executive approve the principle of a public regulatory organization, such as the C.B.C. in the fields of radio and television broadcasting. We condemn the efforts of private pressure groups and 'Free Enterprise' political parties to undermine and destroy the C.B.C. and the principles for which it stands."

R. D. STRONG,
Secretary, U.B.C. C.C.F. Club.

QUESTIONS REEVE

Recent newspaper reports indicate that the reeve of Oak Bay, Mr. Gibbs, states he will now continue his term of office as reeve.

Why he should decide thus is of interest to the people in Oak Bay as he said on more than one occasion through the press and on the public platform that he would resign as reeve if he were elected in the provincial election and devote his whole time to the interests of the people who elected him.

If he was elected on his promise then his duty is to live up to his election statements.

Or are the people's interests not as important since last June.

How long are we to accept unreliable utterances of those seeking office?

What about it, Mr. Gibbs?

Rats and Education

In a recent issue of the Times there are pictures and headlines of a teacher and some pupils in a Greater Victoria school playing with rats. One headline says, "Rats Are Good Teachers." Perhaps they are, but the whole set-up reminds one of an item from Willa Cather's book, "Song of the Lark," which runs: "He taught school because he was too lazy to work among grown-up people, and he made an easy job of it. He got out of real work by inventing useless activities for his pupils."

Tilly Rolson is reported as preparing to cut school costs in the province by 10 per cent. The sooner she pulls up her honyons and starts swinging her snickersnee at some of the "useless activities" and costly frills of our educational system the better it will be for the financial and intellectual welfare of B.C.

And when Inspector Gough compares modern education with that of an earlier period and intimates that the old curriculum included only the three R's "and sometimes a bit of geography," he speaks out of either ignorance or prejudice. For example, the eighth grade exams which this writer took over half a century ago in Canada contained at least eight subjects, all of more importance to real education than playing with rats, and the intellectual, social and moral standards of that time were not greatly inferior to those of this "rat race" age.

Price Of Leadership

By JOSEPH ALSOP, from Paris.

IT IS easy enough to see the superficial causes of the grave trouble between France and the United States. The French after all think, not incorrectly, that the great American policy initiatives which have saved France were also designed to serve the interests of America. Gratitude, like love, is never a dependable international emotion.

Meanwhile, the French are depressed by America's deplorable habit of sending vast missions to administer its foreign policies than the Germans used to send to control their satellites. They are angered by such illogical vagaries as America's attempt to hunt with the French hounds and run with the Moslem hares in the Tunisian controversy. They are badly overstrained by the effort to re-arm, to which the U.S. has summoned them.

They cannot see why, in dealing with such problems as Indo-China, "the Americans always give just enough to keep our noses above water, so we always feel as though we are drowning," as so good a friend of America as Defense Minister Rene Pleven is rumored to have remarked.

Add to all this the current tactics of the Kremlin and its faithful here in France. Anti-Americanism is now the only Communist touchstone. Failure to appreciate this fact is one of the cardinal reasons why French communism's senior hero, Marty, and its great resistance fighter, Tillon, are about to be ignominiously expelled from the party.

To some extent among the workers, and to a very great extent among the intellectuals, the Communist propaganda against America is making headway. Significantly, Jean-Paul Sartre, the existentialist philosopher and man of letters who has loomed so large on the post-war intellectual scene, is now going to Vienna to attend the next Moscow-sponsored "peace congress."

There are plenty of other signs of the same trouble here in France. There is the widespread French conviction that President Eisenhower will be a mere smiling false front for Sen. Robert A. Taft. There is the even more deeply rooted and still more nonsensical belief that the future Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, is a fire-breathing warmonger, who would obliterate Europe with hydrogen bombs in order to free Poland and so gain votes in Hamtramck.

TRUE SOURCES

But the symptoms of the disease, and even the superficial causes of French irritation against America, are far less important than the true sources of France's anti-Americanism.

The first, and least important of these sources, is the simple fact that Europe, although returning to normality, is still tired. Tired men often prefer self-delusion to further effort. The Kremlin, by winding up its performance as the Terrible Tempered Mr. Bang, has encouraged this European tendency to self-delusion. It is not Soviet propaganda, but quiescence, which makes the French hanker to forget about all the ugly problems and requirements that the Americans keep talking about.

Even this would not have mattered much, however, if American policy had not succumbed to a creeping paralysis shortly after Korea. After all, the responsibilities of leadership cannot be put in cold storage for very long. To be relied upon, to inspire confidence, a leader must lead. But American responsibilities as leader of the West have been utterly forgotten ever since the first roars of campaign politics were heard, "way back in 1951."

Thus leadership, bold, generous, constructive and imaginative, is now the great commodity that President Eisenhower must supply. If he fails the West in this respect, one can foresee catastrophe from the mere smell of the air in Paris. But if he succeeds, the air will clear soon enough, and we may hope for a really better world as well as a happier Franco-American understanding.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"I SEE," said the Elevator Man, "where the doctors in London are puzzled by a fellow who turns into an ape when he falls asleep. It seems that somewhere in the middle of the night he starts to scamp around on all fours, growl, bite, climb trees and make like Tarzan. In the morning when he wakes up he is okay again. They're still trying to find out what ails him and why he acts like he does. And when they find that out they can start on the bigger problem of why most of humanity acts like it does. But with most of us it's the other way round. We're at our best when we're asleep. It's when we're awake that the lower animal comes out in us, and we bite, growl, snarl and act aggressive. That seems to give the London fella an edge. At least he doesn't know what he's doing when he's acting up. If we try to excuse ourselves by saying we don't know either, it puts us in a tough spot. He can always prove which is him and which is the ape. With others of us it might be harder. Going up!"

"All of us," said the Elevator Man, "seem to have the two forces inside us, and it's a struggle to see which one will dominate our waking hours. Even when you think you've won you're only a hop, skip and a jump from the tree branches. The jungle hangs low over homo sapiens and it's always lurking him up into the boughs. His mind has got used to brick and pavement but his body hasn't. It's still much the same as it was when trees and grass and rocks were the only environment—and within a generation it could be right back where it started. Lower main!"

"It reminds me," said the Elevator Man, "of that story of the fella who was invited to a very formal party. 'I hate these things,' he told his wife. 'Away with all that formality—I'm just going to act my natural self.' 'Well, all right,' says the wife, 'but if you start throwing coconuts I'm going home.'"

Among Victims of Comox Tragedy

Two of eight men killed in Monday night's crash of a Lancaster bomber at Comox were Malcolm G. McLeod, left, 25-year-old Department of Transport weatherman, and Cpl. G. E. Fletcher, flight engineer aboard ill-fated aircraft. Mr. McLeod, a 1949 graduate of U.B.C., was on his way to the Comox R.C.A.F. station to take up meteorological duties. He is survived by his wife, Catherine, and seven-month-old son, living in Vancouver. Cpl. Fletcher leaves a wife and two sons, Daryl, five, and David, two, living in Courtenay.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1952—2,196.9 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: The remnants of an old Pacific storm lie over the north coast. There were a few very light showers as it approached the area but no further activity is expected as the disturbance continues to weaken. For the most part skies are cloudy throughout the province and there is occasional very light snow in the interior. Fog continues to blanket the lower mainland area while the lower Fraser Valley from Abbotsford to Hope is clear. Another weak storm will approach the north coast with some showers expected in that region Friday. Elsewhere little change is expected for another 48 hours.

DOMINION PUBLIC WEATHER OFFICE 9 A.M. FORECASTS

Nurse in Charge of Surgical Supplies

Miss Catherine Jobling, S.R.N., S.C.M., who was recently appointed Nurse in Charge of the Surgical Supply Department of McGill & Orme, Ltd., on Broad, one door from Fort in the Pemberton Building. She specializes in the fitting of women's body supports and other surgical appliances.

Miss Jobling brings a wealth of experience to her new appointment, having specialized in this work in England. She received her training in the Newcastle-on-Tyne General Hospital and spent some time in Orthopedic work, later moving to London where she graduated in Midwifery.

Prior to coming to Canada she held a post with "Boots, The Chemist," the famous firm with branches in every major town throughout the United Kingdom. Her work with Boots was the same as it will be with McGill & Orme, that of assisting those in need of surgical supplies. Her specialized training enables her to give expert advice as well as to exactly interpret the doctor's instructions.

Shop Doors Will Open Nights for Yule Rush

To help handle the Christmas shopping rush, most Victoria stores will be open at least one night during the week before Christmas.

Hugh Francis, chairman of the retail merchants' section of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, has recommended to members that stores open until 9 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 22 or on Tuesday, Dec. 23, and also on the afternoon of Christmas Eve, Wednesday.

Mr. Francis reports that the majority of store owners favor these recommendations although some want to open on two evenings of the pre-Christmas week. At least one of the big stores here will not stay open at night, it is understood, since this is against company policy.

Lifting weights beyond the normal capacity may injure a person by causing hernia or strain. People of middle age or over should not attempt too strenuous exercise.

WIFE REQUESTS DRAFT BOARD CONTINUE SEARCH FOR 'BUM'

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 27 (AP)—A local draft board, trying to locate an unidentified registrant for induction, wrote to the man's wife for help. Her reply:

"The bum disappeared. But don't quit looking for the bum. The bum is a great fighter, so good he won his last bout with his 90-pound wife. The bum will be terrific against Koreans. I hope you catch up with the bum."

The board is still looking.

Britain Plans to Free Eggs From Rationing Controls

LONDON, Nov. 27 (Reuters)—Egg rationing will end next spring and eggs will be sold free of price controls, Food Minister Gwynne Lloyd George told the House of Commons Wednesday.

Labor members protested that the price would go so high many families would have to do without.

Murdoch Backs Jaycee Head's Candidature

Ald. Brent Murdoch, in announcing he will not seek re-election to the police commission at the December elections, said today he would support the candidacy of Gordon Carter, 31, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Ald. Murdoch had already served one year of his two-year term on the commission when he ran and was elected to City Council last year.

"I ran last year to support Mayor Claude Harrison and I feel that one man should not hold two jobs," said Ald. Murdoch.

He stated he would support Mr. Carter with whom he has been associated in Junior Chamber of Commerce affairs.

Mr. Carter, who has lived in Victoria since 1946, served four years in the R.C.N.V.R. supply branch during the Second World War. He is a partner in a dry-cleaning firm.

J. A. McLellan, former city police chief, also has announced his candidacy for the one vacancy on the commission. He is a native son and served 39 years with the force.

Final Figures in Columbia Vote

GOLDEN, B.C., Nov. 27 (CP)—Final count in Monday's Columbia by-election, won by Attorney-General Robert Bonner, was announced Wednesday night by returning officer W. Lumsden.

Figures are: Mr. Bonner, 1,146; George Keenleyside, Liberal, 445; and Chris Madson, C.C.F., 390.

Commons to Investigate If Enough Windows Built

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (BUP)—Whether houses for R.C.A.F. servicemen at Penhold, Alta., were built with the proper number of windows will be investigated by a House of Commons committee at this session of parliament.

The government was expected to move earlier than it had planned to re-establish last session's defense expenditures committee after F. D. Shaw (S.C.-Red Deer) raised the question of construction at the air force training base.

Shaw told the Commons Wednesday he had received reports that the houses built for servicemen at the base were constructed on weak foundations, with green lumber and without the number of windows that had been called for in the specifications. There were 250 houses to be built at Penhold.

John Dickey, parliamentary assistant to Defense Production Minister C. D. Howe, who has cabinet responsibility, for Defense Construction, Ltd., a crown company, promised that an investigation of Shaw's charges would be made.

Battle for Beach Access Planned

Public access to beaches in the Victoria area will be the subject of a special meeting of the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce Dec. 4.

The group is preparing a brief on the matter to be presented to the provincial government.

Chamber of Commerce directors recently authorized the tourist trade group to approach the B.C. government on the subject of taking over waterfront properties for public use and also to inquire into the possibility of making Witty's Lagoon in Metchoin, a provincial park.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

"Aha. Operator 13 began in his latest and extremely latest missive to this department. 'I see the Cougars are holding up the Western Hockey League and you haven't even consulted me why? And after all I have done for you, too, in the past.'"

"Naturally I'm disappointed at not being able to monitor Mr. Blair Patterson's remarks from terrible section seven this year, as Mr. Patterson is like one of the 10 little Indians of the fable; he ain't there any more 'cause he doesn't like to be a victim of private feuds between Mr. Patrick and the Cougars. That's what he said, and him a good hockey fan, too. I know all that stuff was ironed out when Lager got the gate, but even old section seven has gone to the dogs these days. The fans there haven't thrown one, measly cigarette butt at a rival player this season because the Cougars don't back 'em up on the ice like they used to."

"While we're on the subject, I see you're up to old poetic tricks again so why not try this one for size."

Ten Cougar fans standing in a line,
One saw the standings then there were nine.
Nine Cougar fans working up a hate,
One burned his season ticket, then there were eight.
Eight Cougar fans prayin' up to heaven
One saw no miracle, then there were seven.
Seven Cougar fans at Patrick waving sticks,
One recalled the outlay, then there were six.
Six Cougar fans, then the team more alive,
One remembered '49, then there were five.
Five Cougar fans, then weren't any more,
One declined to pay, then there were four.
Four Cougar fans down on bended knee,
One said "what's the use," then there were three.
Three Cougar fans feeling mighty blue,
One saw the Cougar ghost, then there were two.
Two Cougar fans (it's odd there weren't none),
One had a TV set, then there was one.
One Cougar fan left at the wicket,
If sompin' ain't done, that'll be the ticket.

"Guess the Cougar brass won't like that" the supercilious sleuth continued. "Of course, there's really nothing that can be done about it if the other clubs won't let the Cougars win. They're all after the same thing—the championship and the other clubs want it more than the Cougars; that's my guess."

"They're complacent the Cougars are—in their past and in the Montreal organization. One championship and a berth in the finals in two years isn't a bad record. No other club can match it, nor can any other team measure their worth in fan support as can the Cougar club. That's what burns, isn't it?"

"But you wanted somethin' hot, I suppose. Well, Lester didn't make that prairie trip for nothin'. Really the old codger is a sincere sort of fellow. He takes all your barbs to heart, you know (remember, you had to eat some adjectives last year), and he likes to see the house that a million bucks partially built croaking under the strain. It's the Cougars that are croaking, ain't it?"

"And you—you sure stuck your neck out last Saturday with that headline about the Cougars — 'MAKE CRITICS EAT WORDS'... I imagine you got a severe rep from that one—trying to build up the boys a little, or maybe a suggestion from the top that yesterday's headline should have read—'HOCKEY PLAYERS MAKE HOCKEY PLAYERS EAT WORDS.' They sure let you down, didn't they? Or say, I got a suggestion, why didn't you say, 'CRITICS DISGORGED WORDS THEY WERE FORCED TO EAT.'"

"Seriously though, matters are in a bad state and, as I write this, there's not much hope for the future. The boys on the team are all nice fellows; their salaries are among the best in the league, but they ain't winnin' enough hockey games to pay for those salaries."

"You must feel like a heel when you go into the dressing room. Of course, they must feel like heels, too, for making you feel so conspicuous."

P.S.—By using my own mathematical formula which gave you the Cougars over the Royals in last year's semifinal playoffs, I've come to the algebraic conclusion, using "X" as the Cougars—what else—that you can make plans for your holidays starting March 23 unless Montreal's Ken Reardon is in an opposite permutational mood."

KEN MURRAY WINS

Vic High Captures Invitational Race

Victoria High School, as a team, won the annual Royal Roads Invitational cross country race Wednesday and the Admiral Nelles Trophy for compiling the record low score of 14 points, based on the first four members from each team to cross the finish line.

Ken Murray of Mount View High School won the event in a record time of 21:14, five seconds better than the previous mark.

Victoria High placed seven out of the first 10 runners to finally snap Royal Roads' winning streak at eight straight years.

Cadets were runners-up with 38 points and Mount View was third.

Only 21 runners took part in this year's grind as the Navy and St. George's School teams from Vancouver were grounded.

Harold Robinson led the Victoria High contingent, placing second, while Harry Stevens, Mike Chambers and Jim Moore, all of the Fernwood School, placed third, fourth and fifth, respectively.

Totems Play At Kitsilano

Looking for the victory that will put them over the 500 win-loss percentage, Victoria High School Totems will hit the road Friday.

Totems will meet Kitsilano High School in Vancouver Friday night in the return engagement of a home-and-home series.

Totems thrashed Kits' two weeks ago on the annual homecoming night for their third victory in seven games.

Kings Roll Past Junior Cage Femmes

King Realty, Victoria's one and only senior women's basketball team, continued to roll through local opposition as they scored a 54-36 victory over C. & C. Taxi junior girls Wednesday night at Victoria High School.

Greatly outclassed, the taxi girls made a great battle of it, although they lacked the experience and polish of their opponents.

Top scorer was Kings' Helen Pettigrew with 17 points. Pat Mason topped the losers with 13 points.

In the preliminary, Eaglette bantam girls downed Eaglette midjet girls 24-17.

Line-ups follow:

King Realty—C. Kennedy, S. H. Pettigrew, P. Mason, B. McDonald, S. Lewis, C. P. Greave, C. P. Metcalfe, P. Pickering, J. J. Spearman, Y. Yelmar, S. Total 54.

C. & C. Taxi—P. Wright, B. J. Johnson, C. H. Hearn, J. Kozik, C. V. Sapala, S. Kozik, S. C. Hearn, J. J. Spearman, M. Langhammer, D. Bourdais—Total 36.

TIME OUT! By Jeff Keale

"Gosh, I guess those rumors of dissension on the team are true!"

An International Incident

A mouthful of soccer ball proved an unsavory treat for fullback Lazare Gianessi of France when he was backed into the goal post with considerable force by Bernhard Termath, German forward. The face-lifting operation occurred during an international game at Paris-Colombes Stadium. The Home Guards won the first game between the two nations since 1935 by a 3-1 score before 60,000 appreciative fans. (NEA.)

TO KEEP DATE WITH ESKS

Argos Breeze By Imperials

By ED SIMON, Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP)—A relaxed crew of Toronto Argonauts, able to coast for the first time in months of gruelling football activity, won their second eastern Canada title in three years by brushing aside the overmatched Sarnia Imperials 34-15.

Clearly, the Big Four champions were saving themselves Wednesday for their Saturday date with Edmonton Eskimos in the Grey Cup final.

They were fooled by hot-potato ball-handling that no Big Four club would dare try against alert opposition, gave ground to the determined running attack of the standard bearers of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, and committed an almost unprecedented total of five fumbles in their backfield.

The Argos rolled to a 12-0 lead with a couple of first-quarter touchdowns by Johnny Pedosoff and Royal Copeland, picked up a single by Joe Krol in the second quarter and salted the game away with last-half majors by Al Bruno, Doug Smylie, Ulysees Curtis and Zeke O'Connor.

Red Ettinger, their usually reliable place-kicker, missed three of the six conversions. Krol, called on to kick only four times, filled in for quarterback Knobby Winkowski in the last quarter and made one of the few fumbles of his career when he let a last-down snap get away from him.

The Imperials, lacking the Argonauts' potent array of United States imports and top-notch Canadian reserves, were 13 points down when Dutch Davey kicked a field goal in the second quarter. And their fourth-quarter majors by Corky Duchene and Jack Glendenning came long after the issue was decided.

Standley Takes Lead In City Scoring Race

Slowly rounding into the form that carried them to the Commercial Hockey League championship last year, the Navy entry is showing the way in the offensive and defensive departments.

Opportunistic centre Neil Standley scored a goal and two assists Monday night when Navy routed Individual Cleaners and the three points boosted his total to nine, enabling him to wrest the individual scoring lead away from Toby Brown of Merchants, who have played one less game than Navy.

Standley has three goals and six assists, the assist mark being the league high, and is one point ahead of Brown and Les Corby of Army, tied for second place.

Corby leads the league in goal-sniping with six to his credit.

NO VANCOUVER GRID APPLICATION UNTIL '54

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (BUP)—Stock broker Art Mercer, newly-elected president of Vancouver's proposed entry in the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union, said today no move would be made to get into the league until at least 1954.

Mercer said the club organization was still in the formative stage and there were "a million and one details to work out."

STADIUM TO ACCOMMODATE 125,000

Aussies Build for Olympics

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 27. (Reuters)—The next Olympic games, slated for Melbourne in 1956, are a long way off, but the Australians are already busy with all-out preparations for them.

Major item in planning for Olympics is a stadium where the major events will be held.

The Olympic stadium will be erected at a football field a mile and a half from the centre of Melbourne and workmen on the spot now are busy sinking test holes to determine the soil composition and rock strata of the site.

Soon other workmen will start tearing down the old football stadium to make way for the new one.

After a contest among 115 top-flight Australian architects, the organizing committee selected Frank Heath, winner of this year's town planning medal, to design the stadium.

The plans he submitted will cost an estimated $900,000 to carry out.

The Heath design includes: Accommodation for 125,000 persons—50,000 seated, 30,000 standing but under shelter, and 45,000 standing in the open.

The problem is to provide more seating accommodation without decreasing the total capacity or skimping exits and

Stamps Corral Cougars, Then Put Boots to 'Em

Cats Take Worst Beating Of Season; Canucks Gain

Calgary 9, Victoria 2
Vancouver 2, Seattle 2

It happened again; only this one was worse than the rest. Any Western Hockey League fan knows this statement means the Cougars lost another Wednesday night—a horrendous 9-2 decision to the Stampedeers at Calgary.

It was the third straight defeat for the Victoria club on the prairies, their 15th loss of the season in which they have played 20 games and their 12th in the last 15 games.

Meanwhile, Vancouver Canucks crept closer to the league-leading Saskatoon Quakers by playing a 2-2 tie with Seattle Bombers. Canucks trail the Quakers by two points.

The Stamps moved to within four points of the Canucks while keeping alive their record of not having lost to any team this season but the Quakers.

Things started off mildly enough at the Calgary Corral. Pat Lundy scoring the only goal of the first period, Sid Finney tipped what was in the offing at 23 seconds into the second period with Calgary's second goal although Ed Mazur kept the Cougars in false contention with a goal at 4:17.

But that was only whistling past the graveyard as the Cougars' cause. Before the second period was over Jerry Colnair had kicked out 17 Stampedeers, but Roy Kelly and Archie Scott had boosted the Stamp margin to 4-1.

THE DELUGE

Four from nine leaves five, and that's the number of pucks Colnair fished out of the net in the final period, coach Ed Dorohoy getting the Cougars' second goal. Cougars were outshot 46 to 26.

It was the worst trouncing of the season for the Cougars who had 21 goals scored against them in three games while scoring but eight in return and it must have brought back memories to the Stamps of their 14-3 rout of the Cougars at Calgary last year.

ALL IS QUIET

Expected action from the Cougar front office has failed to materialize in the face of the club's recent reversals, though both general manager Fred Hutchinson and owner Lester Patrick are with the club. Montreal's Ken Reardon was also said to have witnessed the three prairie games.

The Cougars arrive home Friday and will meet Seattle Bombers at Memorial Arena that night.

Vancouver was forced to come from behind to tie Seattle. Ian Macintosh getting the tying goal at 14:29 of the third period. Other goal scorers were Les Hickey for the Canucks and Doug McCauley and Cal Stearns for the Bombers.

Minor Hockey

Two bantam division games in the Victoria Minor Hockey Association are on tap for Saturday morning at Memorial Arena.

Bruins will tangle with Cubs in the opener at 8 while Royals meet Maroons an hour later.

Senators and Capitals will clash on Tuesday morning at 7.

Annual Bridgman Cup Hockey Series Saturday

Bring out the rubbing liniment, mother, daughter will have bruises galore on Saturday.

Discolored shins and aching backs will be the order as the 15th annual Bridgman Cup grass hockey tournament opens at Oak Bay High School Saturday morning.

A total of eight schools will compete with the opening game of the round-robin series slated at 10:30 and the final scheduled for 3.

Draw is in two divisions with four clubs in each.

Victoria High, Mount Douglas, Victoria College and Queen Margaret's School of Duncan make up the first division—Oak Bay High, Esquimalt High, Cowichan

High and St. Margaret's form the second division.

Winners of the first and second division play will meet in the finals.

Last year Victoria High and Norfolk House played to a 1-1 overtime draw, each school holding the cup for six months. Norfolk House is not competing this year.

Draw follows:

10:30 a.m.—Victoria High vs. Mt. Douglas; Oak Bay vs. Esquimalt.

11:05 a.m.—Victoria College vs. Queen Margaret's School; Cowichan High vs. St. Margaret's School.

1:15 p.m.—Victoria High vs. Victoria College; Esquimalt High vs. St. Margaret's School; Mt. Douglas vs. Queen Margaret's School; Oak Bay vs. St. Margaret's School.

2:30 p.m.—Esquimalt High vs. Cowichan High; Mt. Douglas vs. Victoria College.

3 p.m.—Final: Winner of Division I vs. winner of Division II.

'I'll See Ya Later'

Although his horse appeared to have everything under control, rider W. J. Greaves lost control and was forced to dismount in mid-air during the open jumper event of Australia's Perth Royal Show. While Greaves took a hasty exit, his mount cleared the triple bar with ease. The jolt of landing on the turf necessitated first aid but Greaves returned later to win the water jump.

BLUES EDGE LEAFS

Ranger Rookies Click in Debut

The dream that comes to every kid with his first pair of hockey skates came true for a pair of National Hockey League rookies.

Dean Prentice and Kelly Burnett both scored their first big-time goal in the Rangers' 4-2 victory Wednesday night over Toronto Maple Leafs in New York.

Burnett, 26-year-old veteran of three seasons in the American Hockey League, was playing his first game with the tail-end Rangers. He will probably play three games before the Ranger brain-trust makes up its mind about his future.

Prentice was one of a trio of players brought up by the Rangers from their Guelph junior farm early in the season. He earned a reputation for hard shots and tough back-checking in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A loop.

The 12,813 New York fans saw the Rangers build up a 3-0 lead before the Leafs, fighting to break a second-place tie with Montreal, broke into the scoring column.

Jack Stoddard, just back in action after a bout of intestinal gripe, opened the scoring for New York in the first period on a pass from Nick Mickoski.

Early in the second period, Prentice and Don Bones Raleigh each scored within 16 seconds. Raleigh's goal from point-blank range was his first of the season.

Last year's top Ranger playmaker has been out of action most of the season with a broken wrist which is healing slowly.

Burnett's goal, early in the third period, was a solo effort. He picked up a loose puck at centre ice and closed in on Harry Lumley in the Toronto nets with no one on defense. His rebound found its mark.

Sportcasters To Visit Army Troops

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (BUP)—Four of the nation's top sportcasters will leave Canada Tuesday for a tour of the army and air force bases in Europe, the army announced Wednesday night.

The commentators, Tom Foley of CFRA, Ottawa; Henry Viney of CFBN, Calgary; Bill Good of CBU, Vancouver; and Doug Smith of Montreal, visited the Far East theatre last spring.

The sportcasters, doing as many as four shows a day, will visit Canadian servicemen in France, Germany, and England. They will return to Canada Dec. 12.

They will show films on the 1952 Open golf championship, the Stanley Cup playoffs, Canadian curling championships, a number of Big Four football games, and recount the Grey Cup game to be played between Edmonton and Toronto Saturday.

DUNCAN CURLING RINK TO HAVE GALA OPENING

DUNCAN, Nov. 27.—A wheelbarrow will have an honored place in ceremonies connected with official opening night of the $58,000 ice rink of Cowichan Co-operative Curling Association.

The barrow will contain Larry Marshall, association president, and be pushed by Ernie Bullock, Victoria, loser in an intercity wager as to which city would finish its rink first. A parade will follow the barrow. R. M. Strachan, Cowichan-Newcastle M.L.A., will declare the rink open. Items in a special program will include figure skating and dancing by Mary Rose Thacker and Frank Koenders, Victoria professionals; stick-fighting by Sikhs of Mesachie Lake, a novelty for this area; Victoria's Girls' Drill Team; vaudeville by Fred Usher's Hometowners; Victoria, and public dancing, prairie style, on the ice.

Bays Assured of Tie For Girls Cage Crown

Oak Bay broke a first-place deadlock with Esquimalt Wednesday by defeating the Dockers 22-16 in an Inter-High School Junior Girls' Basketball League game.

The teams fought on even terms to a half-time 6-6 draw, but the Bays forged ahead by pushing up nine points to Esquimalt's two in the third quarter. Robertson was the high scorer of the game, banging in 12 points for the losers. Shirley Jones topped Oak Bay with nine.

With only one game left for each team, Oak Bay is assured of no less than a tie for first place.

Semifinals Reached in Suburban Shuttle Meet

Reg Hoadley and Bob Macmurchie moved into the semifinals of the Lower Island badminton tournament by posting wins in tourney play at Brentwood Wednesday night.

Hoadley downed Vince Martin, 7-15, 15-5, 18-7 while Macmurchie bested Phil Salmon, 15-10, 15-2.

George Lane and Jim Wells are the other semifinalists.

Stew Reid and Hugh Francis defeated Doug Boniface and Macmurchie, 15-8, 15-6, while Norm Lambriek and Martin beat Herb Drew and Will Brown-Cave, 15-6, 15-4 in men's doubles play.

Silvia Macmurchie defeated Marie Gilbert, 11-3, 11-2; Jo Crampton whipped Ann Drew, 11-2, 11-3; and Barb Atkins beat Joan Williams, 11-2, 11-6 in women's singles competition.

Dull Bout Draws Boos As Ez Wins

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Jimmy Bivins admits that Ezzard Charles hits hard, but says he's not the sharp puncher he used to be.

Charles, former world heavyweight champion, tried to display his so-called new butchering style Wednesday night in winning a dull 10-round decision but he had a hard time catching up with old Jim after the first round.

Boos frequently echoed through vast Chicago Stadium from the 2,799 fans who contributed to a gate of $7,371.

Charles, who expects to get another crack at the heavyweight title in June after champion Rocky Marciano has a rematch with Jersey Joe Walcott, slugged Bivins with a right to the jaw at the outset of the first round.

Bivins took a mandatory count of eight before rising to start a back-peddling, defensive retreat that lasted throughout.

"Ez still hits hard but he isn't the sharp puncher he used to be," observed the 33-year-old Cleveland Negro, who lost three of four previous bouts with Charles, Cincinnati Negro. "He hit me all over. . . . But he didn't punch sharp."

OPTIMISTIC

Charles said he needs "a guy who will fight back, then I can show my best. I think I'm getting sharper all the time."

Referee Johnny Behr and the two judges each scored their cards 58-42 for Charles, who weighed 185 pounds to Bivins' 183. Behr took the fifth from Charles for a low blow.

Substitute Boxer In Serious Condition

A substitute fighter who went into battle at the Chicago Stadium on only four hours notice is in serious condition from the heavy punishment he took.

Attendants at Cook County Hospital say 28-year-old Tony Guinea, of Milwaukee Wisconsin, is "semi-conscious."

Guinea collapsed after losing a unanimous decision last night (Wednesday) to welterweight Allan Moody of Chicago in an eight-round stadium bout.

CHIEFS TO RETAIN W.I.L. FRANCHISE

WENATCHEE, Wash., Nov. 27 (BUP)—The Wenatchee Chiefs of the Western International Baseball League will keep their franchise during the 1953 season.

Club president Paul Thomas says a drive has reached its initial goal of $20,000 to clear outstanding debts. He adds a hope that the drive can continue as he puts it "so we can have capital to buy players and put a pennant-contending team on the field."

Frankie Dasso, former major league and P.C.I. pitcher, has been named general manager for the Chiefs—and will represent the club at the major league winter meetings next month in Phoenix, Arizona.

Outfielder Mike McCormick, who played with Portland of the Coast League last year, will be signed as playing manager for next season, Thomas added.

Augie Galan Succeeds Ott As Acorn Boss

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 27 (AP)—Augie Galan, one-time major league outfielder for Chicago, Brooklyn, Cincinnati and New York of the National League, was appointed Tuesday as new manager for Oakland's Pacific Coast League baseball club.

Galan succeeds Mel Ott, another former New York Giant, great, whose contract ended by mutual agreement at the end of the 1952 season.

McMorran's Host To City Cagers

McMorran's of the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League and St. Louis College of the Victoria District Basketball League will meet in a juvenile boys' exhibition game at Lake Hill gym tonight at 8:30.

In the preliminary, an hour earlier, McMorran's juvenile girls will meet Eaglettes of Victoria.

LARGEST PAYOFF IN HISTORY

Grey Cup $ Record

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (BUP)—Canada's eight major football teams will cut up the biggest Grey Cup melon in the history of the 44-year-old classic this year, it was learned today.

A gate of $131,000 was expected when the Toronto Argonauts and the Edmonton Eskimos meet in Varsity Stadium this Saturday. In addition, television and radio revenue was expected to total $22,000.

The first bite comes from a provincial hospital tax of 12½ per cent—slightly more than $17,000.

Then comes Varsity Stadium rental fee which is based on a sliding scale and will probably work out to a shade over $14,000.

That leaves about $100,000. Another $14,000 is lopped off by expenses of the game, travelling costs of the two teams, officials' fees, a $3,000 charge against purchase of the C.R.U.'s tarpaulin, and such items as $400 for 18 new football balls.

About $76,000 is now in the pot and $10,000 radio revenue and $12,000 from television adds the figure to $98,000.

Of this, the Canadian Rugby Union deducts 12½ per cent or $12,000 to cover organization expenses.

That leaves the pot at $86,000 which is split 50-50 between the Big Four and the Western Conference, $43,000 each.

There were reports that both Edmonton and Toronto would take 60 per cent cut which works out to nearly $29,000 for each team. The runners-up in each league—Winnipeg in the west and Hamilton in the east—were expected to get a 20 per cent cut or $8,600 each.

Conciliation Recommends Duncan Hospital Pay Rise

DUNCAN, Nov. 27.—King's Daughters Hospital Wednesday received from the Labo. Relations Board, Victoria, a unanimous report from a conciliation board which sat here all day Monday to discuss terms of the 1953 contract of Duncan, Ladysmith, Nanaimo and Port Alberni lay employees.

The board's recommendation included: Seven per cent across-the-board wage increase amounting to $7,000 for 49 lay employees. (Ten per cent had been asked.); One and one-half days' sick leave per calendar month, cumulative to 36 days. Eleven statutory holidays with pay, plus Corporation Day, 1953; Annual vacations with pay of two weeks after one year's service; (Three weeks after five years); and Retention of the 44-hour week until such time as the provincial government initiates a five-day week for civil servants.

The meeting of King's Daughters' Hospital, scheduled for Nov. 28, has been postponed so that local directors may attend the official opening of Port Alberni's new million-dollar hospital.

ISLAND DIGEST

LADYSMITH, Nov. 27.—The "tailor-made" cigarette that burns to the very end unless extinguished is one of the chief causes of forest fires, J. S. Cliffe, of Comox Logging and Railway Co., told the Chamber of Commerce here.

He blamed cigarettes for fires this year at White Rapids Mine and Majuba Mountain, saying that when hunters sight game they are inclined to drop their cigarettes hurriedly without putting them out.

NANAIMO, Nov. 27.—During a two-day blood clinic here there were 400 pints of blood donated, instead of the 500 expected. James Buckle, Red Cross section chairman, said there were 1,000 persons in the city eligible to give blood.

DUNCAN, Nov. 27.—Rotarians here want to introduce the Victorian Order of Nurses to the district to alleviate the present home nursing situation. Rotary Club directors will decide whether a general meeting of service clubs and other interested groups should be called.

DUNCAN, Nov. 27.—Commercial Hotel, Duncan Street, has been bought by Steve Kistruik of Vancouver and his son John. Sale will become effective Jan. 1. The hotel has 39 rooms, licensed premises, and 100-seat dining room.

Socred Head Sees 'Old-Fashioned Righteousness' Winning Elections

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 27 (BUP).—Solon E. Low, national leader of the Social Credit Party, took a long-range verbal punch at C.C.F. national leader M. J. Coldwell Wednesday night. Low unleashed the second blow of a bitter clash between the party bosses over campaign speeches made during the recent British Columbia provincial election.

He told some 200 delegates to the 18th annual meeting of the Alberta Social Credit League that sort of frenzied attack and bitterness from the C.C.F. because of the tremendous Social Credit success in British Columbia, he said.

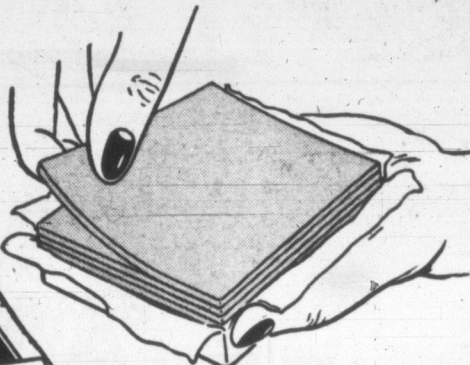

Low claimed "things are beginning to pop all over Canada as there is a rising tide of strong sentiment away from the old parties, because they aren't solving any of our national problems."

"And this sentiment is surging our way," he said.

"I wouldn't be surprised if after the next federal election the Social Credit Party will have control of the House of Commons," Low said, "because people are waking up to the need for old-fashioned righteousness."

Jubilant Socreds Plan Mammoth Parley in Vancouver at Week-End

British Columbia's jubilant Social Credit Party will stage one of the biggest political gatherings in the province's recent history this week-end.

More than 1,000 Socreds will meet in Vancouver's Georgia Street auditorium for the party's annual convention—the first since Social Credit formed a government last August.

The Women's Auxiliary to the B.C. Social Credit League will meet Thursday, and the regular convention proceedings will be held Friday and Saturday.

In addition to the 1,000 accredited delegates, a large contingent of visitors is expected. Under the league's constitution, each of the province's 48 ridings can send 24 delegates.

The convention will shape party policy, and hear resolutions from the local organizations of the party. A committee has been working on resolutions for several weeks in an effort to avoid time-consuming duplications.

The convention will also name a new league president to succeed Labor Minister Lyle Wicks who resigned after he took a cabinet post. Hugh Shantz, North Okanagan M.L.A., has been acting president.

William Savage, Vancouver lawyer, has been prominently mentioned as a strong candidate for the presidency. Mr. Savage acted for the Socreds in the battle with the C.C.F. over recounting votes in Vancouver-Burrard after the June election.

The presidential contest, however, is expected to be contested by several others, including William N. Chant, president of the Victoria Social Credit Association; Peer Paynter, Vancouver, an unsuccessful Revelstoke candidate in June, and Mr. Shantz, the incumbent.

Confidence is running high in the party, and addresses by Premier W. A. C. Bennett and national leader Solon Low are expected to keynote this feeling.

All B.C.'s cabinet ministers will speak briefly.

Telemeter Will Bring TV to Many in Canada

By BRUCE PHILLIPS
 Canadian Press Staff Writer
 TORONTO, Nov. 27.—A transmission system called "telemeter" has made it possible to see television programs in communities beyond range of existing TV stations.

The telemeter is a method of sending programs by wire, and a special adaptor is required for regular television sets to obtain this service.

Famous Players Canadian Corporation, which acquired distribution rights, has applied for franchises to install telemeter in Kingston, Hamilton, Toronto, Kitchener, Vancouver and several towns in Quebec. Where communities already receive regular television, the telemeter would provide supplementary programs.

Officials of the company said it plans later to include centres like Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon, the lakehead and eventually perhaps every sizable town in the country.

Once the attachment is installed, the set owner operates telemeter by coins, much the same as a pay telephone or coin-operated radios common in hotels.

The sets are connected by wire to a central control room and the programs are "piped" over the wires. Most of the programs would be regular movies, and recorded films of sports events and other attractions which had been previously televised.

In areas which now have TV, the company plans to install "community antennae." About 300 feet high, each community antenna would be located at an interference-free point to serve all subscribers to the service.

Cost to the set owners for installation of telemeter and a link to the community antenna is estimated at between $135 and $150. A monthly service fee of about $2 would also be charged.

Famous Players said charges for using telemeter would vary depending on the program. The average for a "top quality" movie would be about 50 cents, other programs ranging from 5 cents to $2.

Airmen Sentenced For Crucifix Theft

FAMED 'MIKADO' PLAYS OPENING SHOW TONIGHT

Members of the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Operatic Society will don silken finery and paint on the "Japanese look" tonight for presentation of the ever-popular operetta "Mikado."

Tonight's performance, at the Royal Theatre at 8.15, is the first of four scheduled this week. Other performances will be given Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon.

A cast of 60 will take part, and a full orchestra of 18 pieces will provide accompaniment, under the baton of the show's musical director, Melvin Knudsen.

Taking principal parts in the operetta are Ruth Champion, Catherine Denison, Angela Clarke, Helena Williams, Jim Mead, Robbins, Alan White, Alan Robertson, John Bray and William Fahey.

Lieut.-Col. Victor Mills is producer and stage director of the production.

Authentic scenery for the show has been prepared by painter Norton Adamson.

Tickets for "Mikado" are on sale at the Royal Theatre box office from 10 a.m. daily.

WHISKY BOTTLES IN CRIB?

Toronto Mayor Under Fire For Nativity Scene Refusal

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (BUP)—Church leaders accused Mayor Allan Lamport of "maligning" the citizenry today by saying that some Torontonians might be tempted to put whisky bottles in the Christ Child's crib.

Lamport said that was his reason for refusing to allow a "bring Christ back to Christmas" committee to put up a Nativity scene in front of city hall.

Church leaders and the committee members disagreed. To prove it, they said they would have their Nativity tableau just the same on the front campus of the University of Toronto. And they defied Lamport to find so much as a beer bottle tossed in the straw of the stable.

"The mayor underestimates the people of Toronto," one churchman said.

Board of control turned down the proposal for the second time Wednesday after hundreds of letters of protest to controllers, aldermen and newspapers snowballed the issue into one of the biggest in next week's civic elections.

LIVE SOUVENIR

20,000 in West Saw National Ballet Co.

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP)—The 30 members of the National Ballet Company of Canada came home with a stray cat from Moose Jaw and filled with enthusiasm over their welcome on a five-week tour of the west.

Walter Homburger, company general manager, said the group played to 20,000 persons in the 20-odd performances.

The highlight probably was at Vancouver on opening night when the group drew 19 curtain calls from a packed house.

"Lois Smith danced 'Giselle' beautifully that night," Ceila Franca, the company's artistic director, said Wednesday.

Miss Smith is one of the troupe's two featured female dancers. She is from Vancouver and the wife of David Adams of Winnipeg, featured dancer and part-time choreographer.

The cat, found near Moose Jaw, has been named "Salome," the name of Miss Franca's ballet.

Mayhew Reviews 15 Years as M.P. At Tribute on Eve of Departure

Laurier Club members who met Wednesday night to honor His Excellency Hon. R. W. Mayhew prior to his departure to Japan where he will represent Canada as Ambassador, heard him dip into the past and look into the future.

Mr. Mayhew was in a reminiscent mood as he recalled the fact that in three days it will mark his 15th anniversary as representative for Victoria at Ottawa.

During that time he said, he has done everything from getting on preventing divorces to attending the San Francisco Peace Conference. His greatest pleasure, he said, was in helping those who were unable to help themselves.

He spoke intimately of the late Prime Minister King, who surprised him by sending for him and asking him to join his cabinet 4½ years ago.

Mr. Mayhew described his new post as an opportunity to serve Canada in a broader way. His mail, he declared, shows that not just the people of B.C. but the people of Canada, realize more than ever the terrific importance of Japan to this country.

"My task," he added, "is linked to the move for world peace. We must build a bridge of friendship and show the Japanese people that we can forgive if not forget."

Referring to himself and Mrs. Mayhew he said, "We have reason to feel quails... our son lies somewhere in the Indian Ocean." The son referred to was killed in air action against the Japanese in the Second World War.

Mr. Mayhew made mention of the fact that he visited Canadian troops in Korea last year. He deplored the heavy defense expenditures at present and hoped that he may be used to

N.Y. HOSPITAL BUYS LATEST TYPE OF CANADIAN CANCER BOMB

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Montefiore Hospital has obtained a $86,000 anti-cancer bomb from Canada that is reported capable of producing the same "kick" as $30,000,000 worth of radium.

The bomb, properly known as a cobalt teletherapy unit, was brought by truck Wednesday to the Bronx institution from the Canadian atomic energy plant at Chalk River, Ont. Largest of its type in the country, the bomb's active elements are contained in four small wafers of cobalt 60—which can bombard a cancer with up to 3,000,000 volts compared to 200,000 volts from X-ray machines.

Big Telephone Expansion Program Pushes Ahead in VICTORIA

... with More to Come!

Victoria's big telephone expansion program is pushing ahead—and there's more to come next year.

In addition to a $300,000 outside cable program recently completed, and a half-million-dollar automatic addition to the Victoria exchange now under way, plans call for another $100,000 cable project to be completed next year.

Additional telephones are being installed in Victoria as fast as the central office equipment and outside plant become available. More than 260 new telephones have been installed since September 1, and between 400 and 500 more instruments are expected to be installed between now and the end of the year.

The current automatic installation is the biggest automatic project undertaken by the B.C. Telephone Company in Victoria since the system was converted to dial operation 22 years ago.

By the time the automatic addition is finished, a foreman and 10 Canadian (B.C.) Telephones and Supplies Ltd. technicians will have put in thousands of man-hours of exacting, intricate work.

They will have soldered 90,000 small, individual connections.

They will have installed 500 miles of additional wire in the Victoria telephone exchange building.

They will have installed 1000 separate items of complex switching equipment.

They will have connected up 9900 relays.

All this adds up to a lot more telephone service for Victoria.

R.C.M.P. Too Ambitious for Convictions Senator Charges

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—A Nova Scotia Liberal senator claims that the centre of ambtion for the R.C.M.P. is to get a conviction against an accused person "at any event."

Senator Donald MacLennan, 75-year-old lawyer, said in a Senate committee Wednesday he hopes something will be done to see "that the poor devil of a prisoner is given a chance."

Senator MacLennan raised the matter during discussion of amendments to the Criminal Code which contain a provision placing the R.C.M.P., a civilian force, on a military basis in respect to maintaining discipline.

John Marshall, Stephen Field and John Harlan all served as United States Supreme Court justices for 34 years.

Farmer Claims Record Egg-Layer

Farmer William Duval, Island Highway, is holding prized hen, "Molly," which he believes is a record egg-layer. The bird to date has laid a total of 380 eggs since she began laying in October of last year. She just keeps on laying an egg a day.

Sven Hedin, Veteran Swedish Explorer of Asia, Dies at 87

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 27 (Reuters).—Dr. Sven Hedin, Swedish explorer who filled in many blank spaces on the map of Asia, died at his home Wednesday, aged 87. He had been ill for a year with an unspecified disease.

Hedin spent his early life wandering over unexplored territory in the Middle East and Asia, mapping territory and seeking archeological remains.

In 1885, at the age of 20, Hedin left on his first journey of exploration, travelling through Iran northward to the Russian Caucasus. Ten years later he crossed the Takla Makin desert of north-west China and discovered the ruins of two Buddhist towns buried in the sand.

Hedin wandered through the unknown regions of China and Tibet for five years. He found the ruins of the old Chinese town of Lou-Lan and explored the vast Gobi desert in Mongolia.

He returned to Sweden a hero and was knighted by King Oscar. But Hedin soon got restless and in 1905 again left for Asia. In 1908, he discovered two new provinces in Tibet and mapped the sources of the Brahmaputra and the Indus Rivers.

His last great feat was in October, 1933, when, at the age of 69, he was commissioned by the Chinese government to explore the 2,000-mile route from Nanking to Sinkiang.

Armed Forces Up 900 To Top 100,000 Mark

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—Canada's armed forces increased their strength by roughly 900 men during October, although discharges lowered the army's manpower.

The three services had 99,822 men compared with 98,961 at the end of September. Defense Minister Brooke Claxton had already announced that the over-all total went beyond 100,000 in early November.

Figures issued Wednesday showed that the net gain of roughly 900 compared with a recruiting intake of 2,368 new officers and men. In other words, for every five men recruited, about three were discharged.

The army, continuing a drop that started five months ago because of discharges of Korean veterans, went down to 47,540, although recruiting brought in 926 newcomers. This was 98 fewer than the 47,638 at the end of September and took the manpower figure back to the levels of last February and January.

Of 1,014 men who were discharged, 409 were special force men back from Korea. But the statement indicated that the drain of special force men is petering out.

However, 1,900 men are now coming back from Germany and

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Apologies to all football fans for my poor prediction of the Argonaut-Sarnia game Wednesday.

I picked Argos by 15 points, and they actually won by 42. My intuition went off the track somewhere, but will no doubt be vindicated Saturday when Eskimos fight their way to the Grey Cup.

From yesterday's helpful hints department of this newspaper: "Spatting a kitchen floor is quite easy to do with a stick against which to strike your paint brush. First paint the floor a solid color. Small spatters can be made by using less paint on the brush and striking it against the stick held about one foot from the floor. Large spatters result when more paint is used and the stick is held three feet from the floor."

I have an even easier way of spatter painting the floor. Just paint the ceiling.

The T. Eaton Company is advertising 400-day clocks. What are the extra 35 days for? Inflation?

On waking up and looking out at the frost this morning, the village idiot remarked, "Oh, well, the United States is bound to have a Dwight Christmas."

The newspaper tells us that 10 cents out of every dollar spent by the Canadian government is derived from the sale of tobacco.

This news will be welcomed by all those who seek reasons to not quit smoking.

I see there is a dressed turkey show going on in town today.

I am not quite clear on what a dressed turkey show is. Do they dress formally or informally? And is there a fashion show, too?

What these dressed turkeys should remember, fine feathers do not a roaster make.

Padded shoulders may look fine at a dressed turkey show, but they won't help in the oven.

The B.C. Economic Times, of which better things might be expected, reports that himeericks with a twist are circulating through said financial circles.

As an example, it quotes:

There once was a New England preacher,
Who said the hen was a wonderful creature.
When the hen heard that,
She laid two eggs in his hat—
And thus did the Henry Ward Beecher.

A national firm of jewellers is currently promoting engagement rings for men.

They are called "acceptance bands."

How about a musical band, which plays: "I surrender, dear?"

100 to Work on New Lab

Luney, Hamilton Get $625,000 Contract

Contract for a new Pacific Naval Laboratory Building at H.M.C. Dockyard, Esquimalt, has been awarded to Luney Bros. and Hamilton, and work will start within 10 days.

A 100-man crew will be employed by the main contractor, and sub-contracts will be let for heating, electricity, plumbing, millwork, masonry, roofing and sheet metal.

The contract is for $625,000.

When completed, the three-story, fireproof building will house the most fully equipped laboratory of its kind in the world, with all phases of naval research work under one roof.

Pacific Naval Laboratory operates in conjunction with the Joint National Defense Research Board in a continuing program of research.

SEA WATER TANKS

A large part of the work will involve anti-submarine warfare, and special sea water tanks will be built to aid this phase of research.

Most of the equipment will be "top secret," but it has been revealed that the basic design will be "honeycomb," with separate cells for each phase of research.

There will be 11 chemistry laboratories, five electronics laboratories, social physics laboratories and metallurgy workshops.

The building is expected to be ready for service within two years.

Before the meeting, Mr. Somers said he didn't know exactly what the nature of the discussion will be, but thought Alcoa may make an offer to the government in connection with water rights on the Atlin Lake watershed.

The B.C. and Canadian governments actually hold the key to the massive proposed development.

The project, which would result in mushrooming of a new community of 20,000 and become Alaska's main industry, hinges on B.C. and federal government approval because Atlin Lake watershed, the chief source of water supply, lies partly in B.C. and partly in the Yukon.

The hydro-electric development of 1.6 million horsepower depends on this water.

Mr. Somers undoubtedly will want to learn from Mr. Growdon if plans for the aluminum project will adversely affect a similar project at Kitimat, being built by Aluminum Company of Canada.

This is expected to be the focal point of the government's entire discussion with Alcoa officials. If the Alaska development would mean curtailment of the Kitimat use of Atlin Lake water.

First official talks between U.S. interests and the provincial government on a proposed $400,000,000 aluminum development near Skagway, Alaska, started in Victoria today.

J. T. Growdon, Pittsburgh, chief consultant to the Aluminum Company of America, which is planning the project, met with Lands and Forests Minister Robert E. Sommers this afternoon.

discussion with Alcoa officials. If the Alaska development would mean curtailment of the Kitimat use of Atlin Lake water.

First official talks between U.S. interests and the provincial government on a proposed $400,000,000 aluminum development near Skagway, Alaska, started in Victoria today.

J. T. Growdon, Pittsburgh, chief consultant to the Aluminum Company of America, which is planning the project, met with Lands and Forests Minister Robert E. Sommers this afternoon.

Before the meeting, Mr. Somers said he didn't know exactly what the nature of the discussion will be, but thought Alcoa may make an offer to the government in connection with water rights on the Atlin Lake watershed.

The B.C. and Canadian governments actually hold the key to the massive proposed development.

The project, which would result in mushrooming of a new community of 20,000 and become Alaska's main industry, hinges on B.C. and federal government approval because Atlin Lake watershed, the chief source of water supply, lies partly in B.C. and partly in the Yukon.

The hydro-electric development of 1.6 million horsepower depends on this water.

Mr. Somers undoubtedly will want to learn from Mr. Growdon if plans for the aluminum project will adversely affect a similar project at Kitimat, being built by Aluminum Company of Canada.

This is expected to be the focal point of the government's entire discussion with Alcoa officials. If the Alaska development would mean curtailment of the Kitimat use of Atlin Lake water.

Pilot Staff Dwindles as Coast Ships Fog-Trapped

Traffic-crippling fog in Vancouver may have its effect on shipping in Victoria.

As of this morning, seven pilots from B.C. Pilotage Authority here were aboard ships at anchor in English Bay—unable to enter Burrard Inlet because of dense fog.

This left only two Victoria pilots available for duty and at least five deep-sea ships were expected to request pilots at Race Rocks between noon and midnight today.

The inbound ships will have to anchor at William Head or in Royal Roads until pilots can be brought over from the mainland.

Air travel to the mainland from Victoria is at a standstill, with all flights "washed out" up to and including the 2.30 p.m. Vancouver flight today. There is little indication that the fog will lift enough to permit air travel this evening.

Victoria-Seattle return flights have also been cancelled.

Binny Leaves Chest Staff For Economy

The man who directed the last four Community Chest drives in Victoria, H. B. Binny, has been "struck off strength" in an economy move by Chest directors.

"The campaigns will continue just the same," he said today. "I will work until the end of the year, and then I expect the executive secretary of the chest will take over as campaign director."

Mr. Binny's salary was $250 per month.

Simultaneously with the announcement Wednesday night came word that Community Chest agencies must scale their budgets to meet the $151,000 contributed in this campaign instead of the hoped-for objective of $195,000.

"Mr. Binny did a wonderful job as campaign secretary," said G. E. Whitaker, board chairman, "but we can't retain him. If funds become available the post will be resumed."

During his tenure collections were as follows, with objectives in parentheses: 1950, $161,000 ($181,200); 1951, $168,000 ($226,000); 1952, spring, $38,000 (no objective); fall, $151,000 ($195,000).

Extension Asked

City Council today was asked to give a 60-day extension to the notices to vacate issued Aug. 28 to 13 residents of the Lime Bay shacks. The residents are still occupying the shacks.

Mr. Myers thinks the best argument of all is the fact that the vital communications centre at Bamfield is without road connection.

"The Canadian Overseas Communication Company's cable out of Bamfield connects with Fanning Island, Suva, Melbourne, New Zealand and the whole British chain of underwater cable," he said. Thus a road to Bamfield, at least, is of the greatest importance to the whole of Canada from a military point of view. Ottawa can't refute that."

You Will Save Pennies
By Making Your Drapes

By PENNY SAVER

In fall and winter, the family spends more time indoors. You will want to make your living room look cozier and warmer. Drapes can add warmth in several ways. They protect from draughts. Their color can make the room look warmer. Their texture, and the way they are hung can increase the feeling of warmth.

You live with your drapes a long time. More than any other single thing, they influence the atmosphere of your room. Good material chosen to last can be expensive. You will find a visit to a sewing centre especially worth while if you want to make drapes you can live with comfortably and which will make your living room warm and inviting to your friends.

Persons experienced in home decoration in sewing centres will give you help with many problems.

You will find that lined drapes on a traverse rod, with a pulley cord for drawing them, give the most physical warmth, as well as a warm appearance. Or you can use crosswise poles with rings. There are many new labor-saving accessories for gathering your drapes and for putting on rings of various kinds. Warmth is added by a valance, and by lining with sateen, cotton flannel or percale. Television viewers will want opaque interlining as well to shut out the light.

You may have casement or arched windows and be at a loss how to make drapes for them. In your sewing centre you will find out how to make the correct drape headings for the swinging crane for casement windows, or the new arched metal rod for arched windows.

You can get good advice on choice of color and fabric. The colors which give the greatest feeling of warmth are at the red-orange end of the rainbow. Blues and greens are cooler.

But there are in-between tones, bluish or reddish purple, for instance, that you can choose to harmonize with the rest of your room. In texture, a glazed surface is not as warm as a softer finish.

Sewing centres recommend sewing hems and sides of interlining and drapes by machine, but sewing the heading which is lined with buckram by hand. A real labor-saving device for hemming is the blind hemmer attachment. This can be used to make regularly spaced invisible tacking stitches on your hems.

Montreal Girl, 12,
Joins Screen Stars

MONTREAL, Nov. 27 (CP).—

When 12-year-old Carmen Gings came home from Hollywood she was besieged for autographs—her own, because she's a movie actress in her own right.

Carmen was chosen to play in "I Confess," a movie in which most of the locale is in Quebec City. She acted with such stars as Anne Baxter, Montgomery Clift and John Hodiak.

As a pupil at Notre Dame de la Paix School in Verdun, adjoining Montreal, she showed considerable acting ability. Then she went to a dramatics school for further training. It was there the producers looked for a 12-year-old girl of a certain type, and Carmen was just the type. Screen tests and a contract followed.

Carmen is the daughter of Paul-Emile Gings, a Montreal taxi driver. She has a younger brother and two younger sisters. She said she liked Montgomery Clift best among her fellow players. Asked why, she answered: "Because he gave me this."

"This" was a toilet set.

There is no such thing as absolute color permanence. No color will last forever. Over a period of time certain conditions are destructive to any dyestuff. With vat dyed colors, however, this period generally extends beyond the useful life of the fabric.

The term "flame proof" as applied to fabrics means that they won't flash burn. Nylon, for instance, will melt at a temperature of 480 degrees Fahrenheit if a flame is applied. However, as soon as the flame is removed the nylon stops burning because nylon itself will not support combustion. The fabric therefore is resistant to spreading flame after coming into contact with fire.

TODAY'S RECIPES

STEAK AND KIDNEY PIE

One and one-half pounds steak (beef or veal), one-half pound kidney, flour, salt and pepper, one tablespoon chopped onion, one tablespoon minced parsley, one-half pound mushrooms (sliced), water or stock, one bay leaf, one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Cut steak and kidney into one-half-inch cubes and dredge with flour. Season with salt and pepper. Arrange meat in greased casserole and add onion, parsley, mushrooms; sufficient water to cover meat, bay leaf and Worcestershire sauce. Cover casserole and cook in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) one hour or until meat is almost tender. Remove cover and replace it with pastry, pricking crust to allow steam to escape. Return to a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) and bake for 15 minutes or until crust is browned. Serves four. Pastry: One and one-half cups flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half cup shortening, three tablespoons cold water (about). Sift together flour and salt, cut in shortening with two knives or pastry blender. Add enough water to hold ingredients together, sprinkling evenly and mixing with fork to form ball. Roll out in circular piece one-quarter-inch thick on lightly floured board.

For easy entertaining, feature a cheese tray. Centre the tray with an eye-catching bright red Gouda, then circle with slices of Canadian Cheddar, Camembert, Bluevein, Swiss and Processed cheese. Add pears, apples, grapes and crackers.

The salad is important enough to be a daily item on the menu. In the winter months, Green vegetables are necessary to the balanced diet.

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, November 27th.—One of the features I particularly like about the new GURNEY GAS RANGE is the glass oven-door panel—so you can see from the outside how things are coming along. And of course, there's the special Gurney "Even-Heat" oven that keeps the temperature exactly right—automatically. Yes, I know you'll agree that the new Gurney Gas Range is a wonderful stove. It makes cooking and baking a real pleasure. Why not visit your Gurney dealer tomorrow? He'll be glad to show you all the new, "kitchen-tested" features that make the Gurney Ranges so popular with us women.

They're Wonderful! The makers of BLUE BONNET DE LUXE MARGARINE have thought of something more to put their margarine "way up top in popularity (and way up top on my shopping list, too!). Now my favourite margarine has each golden-yellow quarter pound individually wrapped in pure aluminum foil with inner parchment lining. That keeps the wonderful "De Luxe" flavour in—keeps ice box odours out. You'll find De Luxe Blue Bonnet wonderfully convenient to use. Just unwrap what you need and serve. No slicing, wrapping or unwrapping. And you can forget your measuring cup when you're cooking. The handy chart on the package shows exactly where to cut.

Speaking Of Babies, I'm sure you're a darling. And I'm sure, too, that you're determined to give him the very best of everything. That includes foods made specially for him!

... extra nourishing foods like those good Heinz Pre-Cooked Cereals and HEINZ STRAINED BABY FOODS... meat food products, soups, vegetables and desserts—all pre-cooked to be deliciously digestible for your baby. And, when he's just a little older, he'll be ready for HEINZ JUNIOR FOODS. Yes, Heinz takes care to see that your baby is well and wholesomely fed from the age of just a few months to several years. Look for your dealer's stock of Heinz Baby Foods next time you're shopping.

"All Done!" ... Yes, dishes are done in no time with those grand new chemical soaps. But they are hard on hands—aren't they? So—better keep JERGENS LOTION handy to smooth 'n' soothe your hands. You see, because it's liquid, Jergens quickly penetrates to supply the softening moisture that dry, thirsty skin needs. Feels grand when you smooth it on... sinks right into your skin, leaving no greasy film as with ordinary lotions or creams. Why not try it? Your husband, for one, will notice how much lovelier your hands are looking. Keep a bottle of Jergens Lotion handy in both kitchen and bathroom and use it after every chore. Remember Jergens Lotion... because you care for your hands! It costs 15c, 27c, 60c or $1.15.

There's No Telling When the cold bug may bite you now that the weather is so changeable. If you're a victim do try FACE-ELLE tissue handkerchiefs. They won't cure your cold but they'll go a long way towards making it bearable because they're so soft and kind to your poor old nose. They're more absorbent, too, and as for strength... well! Face-ELLE makes the only THREE-ply tissues in Canada! But be sure you get genuine Face-ELLE! Don't let the habitual use of any other brand name keep you from enjoying the extra comfort of Face-ELLE. Just say "Face-ELLE please". Wonderful for removing make-up and for dozens of other uses too!

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Worry Drags You Down;
Can Accomplish Nothing

The things we worry about seldom happen. We worry and worry for years about certain things which never occur, and then bang, we are hit between the eyes with a problem we would have sworn would never come to us!

That's the way it goes. When the unexpected trouble comes we have to deal with it, and it would be silly to say that we can avoid the heartbreak and worry which comes with it, if it is serious enough.

We all know that worry can exhaust us, that it can give us a headache and make us feel drawn all over, that it clouds happiness, but we often fail to recognize the truly frightening effect it has on health. Emotional strain affects every organ in our body; our glandular system, our heartbeat, our respiration and our circulation. There are certain types of heart and circulatory troubles which are caused by chronic, long-drawn-out periods of strain and unhappiness.

Therefore worry is a dangerous enemy. We should learn to control it. Today I want to give you two suggestions.

In the first place, in my estimation, it is downright sinful to worry about things which have not already happened; or things which are unimportant. It is such a useless waste of energy. You worry for years for no reason but in the meantime you damage health, personality, accomplishment and vibrant living.

When it comes to the problems we have right on our own doorstep (and they are going to be there sooner or later if we live) we should solve those quickly, with decisive action, if that is possible. If not, we should develop cutoffs with a change of viewpoint and with activity.

Mulling over and over a problem is not only wearing but it creates such an emotional state that we are incapable of as sound judgment as we would otherwise have been.

You cannot mull and mull, go over and over a question, worry and worry, without ending up with a nervous breakdown and a wrong decision.

Some people worry only when they have reason to, but there are myriad others who live in a constant state of vague fears and uneasiness. God pity their souls, and I say this sincerely and fervently: If you belong to this last group, take a firm hold on your bootstraps and pull yourself up, or sit down and relax!

If you would like to have my leaflet about "Worry" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 64. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

'Pay What You Like Plan' Has Its Troubles

Letting the customers decide their own charges and pay their own bills at the cash register can be "interesting" for a restaurateur, but it has its headaches.

Paul Arsens, proprietor of the Dominion and Sussex Cafes who is conducting the experiment in both establishments, said today people never stop asking questions, and that his telephone never stops ringing.

"Two New York news services, Two Victoria men between them had soup, veal cutlets, half-boiled eggs, macaroni and cheese, two fruit salads, two orders of Boston cream pie, and two cups of coffee.

"They didn't pay a cent," the proprietor said ruefully. "They just got up and walked out."

"That kind of thing happened only once or twice," Mr. Arsens said, "but it's a worry to the waitresses."

His volume of business has been double the normal for the first half of the week, he said, and receipts are higher than they would have been if checks had been given—despite the chiselers.

"The customers have enjoyed themselves," Mr. Arsens said.

Thieves Leave All But the Kitchen Sink

CALGARY, Nov. 27 (CP).—Some Calgary thieves may not have "everything but the kitchen sink"—but they've plenty of those.

They made off with four kitchen sinks and nothing else from a warehouse loading platform here Wednesday night.

WALL OF PREJUDICE

At mealtimes, if there happens to be a stewardess on board, passengers are served a cold lunch consisting of two sandwiches, one made with sausage, the other with cheese, dry biscuits and a bar of delicious chocolate and a few candles. The beverage is hot tea served in a glass.

Half the time there is no stewardess on board. If there is, chances are she snoozes on the back seat with never a thought for the passengers. Between Moscow and Prague, each passenger had to carry his lunch tray back and forth, while the stewardess flipped with a member of the crew.

The Soviet pilots are likeable, usually strapping individuals but unbelievably sloppy in their attire, unshaven, hair unkempt and untidy. They wear leather jackets and unpressed trousers, with shirt collar open at the neck and cap on crooked. To anyone accustomed to the nattiness of our pilots, the contrast is indeed noticeable.

COW PASTURE LANDINGS
Except in the largest cities the runways often seem much too short for larger aircraft. Three times our ship had to land and take off from open fields because the only runway was being repaired.

The runways are often isolated from the airport by endless fields of mud. At Kanan and at Sverdlovsk, a small bus is pressed into service to carry passengers from the plane to the airport. Otherwise they would cover the distance ankle deep in mud.

It seems a great number of people travel by air in Siberia. This no doubt results from the great distances. But the freakish schedules cause interminable hours of waiting at airports for airline customers. The sight of thirty, forty or fifty asleep in Siberian airport waiting rooms is a common one; men, women and children stretched out on benches or the floor, heads pillowed on baggage. Rather like a railway station when the local train is 12 hours late.

NO ACCIDENTS IN U.S.S.R.
According to communists there are very few plane crashes in the U.S.S.R. This is due to the fact, if we are to believe them, that human life is not jeopardized for profits, while in the United States the thirst for gain and commercial competition urges private companies to send their planes aloft in any kind of weather. But it is possible to determine whether or not there are aviation accidents in the U.S.S.R.? Even if there were some every day, very few people would know about them.

Before leaving I sought to take out a $50,000 life insurance policy. All the companies I approached declined when they found out I was to travel behind the Iron Curtain. Only Lloyds of London took the risk, and that at a premium cost four times higher than if my travels had been limited to Western Europe. Now that I am back, I really can't say that the premium was too high.

Jeffries, a second brakeman, was unloading logs from a train when the accident occurred. An inquest will be held Dec. 5 at Youbou.

He is survived by his parents and a brother at Paddockwood, Sask.

I.W.A. to Decide on Opening Of Contract at Meet Dec. 15

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP)—Decision will be made at a meeting here Dec. 13 as to whether the woodworkers' wages contract will be reopened.

District president Stewart Alsbury of the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.) said the decision would be made at a special quarterly council meeting.

Under terms of the summer strike settlement, the contract may be opened for further negotiations if asked for by the workers or management.

"BORROW ON YOUR CAR AT TRANS CANADA CREDIT"

"All you have to do is call them on the phone and make arrangements for the loan. Then drive down to see your Trans Canada Credit counsellor, show him your motor car permit and the cash is yours in no time at all. Fast? Easy? Sure it is. And you can get loans on your furniture, too. Besides, all Trans Canada Credit loans are life insured for $1,500 at no extra cost."

Trans Canada Credit... an all-Canadian company... is a subsidiary of Traders Finance Corporation Ltd. In Victoria, Trans Canada Credit is at 618A Fort Street, phone Beacon 4423. C. W. Paulin, Branch Manager.

Thirty-fourth installment from the book THE CAINE MUTINY, copyright, 1931, by Herman Wouk. Distributed by Doubleday, Garden City, N.Y.

Keefe and Maryk were dumfounded. The captain glanced at their faces and said, "Well, any questions? Or do you agree that that's the way to go about it?"

"Sir, do you realize there may be a couple of thousand keys on the ship?" said Maryk.

"What if there are five thousand? Sort 'em out, it'll take maybe an hour, and you'll only have a few hundred that could possibly be the padlock. You can check one a second, sixty a minute, that's one thousand eight hundred keys in half an hour. Anything bothering you, Keefe?"

Keefe glanced sideways at Queeg, then threw a wink at the exec, and shook his head. "I don't know how it can hurt to try it, Steve."

"Captain, you said a personal search of all hands," Maryk said. "That means stripping the men—"

"We're in a warm climate, nobody'll catch cold," said Queeg, with a giggle. "I shall personally direct the search tomorrow."

The two officers went out, and in silence descended the ladder to the wardroom.

That night Maryk wrote a long entry in his medical log. When he was through he put away the folder, locked his safe, and took down the fat blue-bound Navy regulations volume. He opened the book, turned to Article 184 and read aloud slowly, in a monotonous mutter: "It is conceivable that most unusual and extraordinary circumstances may arise in which the relief from duty of a commanding officer by a subordinate becomes necessary, either by placing him under arrest or on the sick list; but such action shall never be taken without the approval of the Navy Department or other appropriate higher authority, except when reference to such higher authority is undoubtedly impracticable because of the delay involved or for other clearly obvious reason."

By seven o'clock that morning Willie Keith had interviewed all the men in his department. On his bunk was a large cardboard carton which contained a tangle of some 400 tagged keys. He hefted the box, wobbled through the wardroom with it, backed up the rolling ladder to the main deck, and inched along the captain's cabin. He kicked at the door; it rang hollowly. "Open, please, sir. Both arms full."

There were four people in the room: the captain, Ensign Voles, Jellybelly, the yeoman, and Chief Bellison. The captain's bunk was a sea of keys—there seemed to be 100,000 of them, brass keys, steel keys, iron keys, of all shapes, tangled and knotted in each other and in the cords of the white tags. The deck was piled with cardboard cartons. Jellybelly and Bellison were clinking the keys into two separate heaps.

Ensign Voles was passing the keys from the smaller heap one by one to the captain. Queeg, sitting at his desk, white-faced and red-eyed, but full of enthusiasm, plunged the keys one by one into the padlock, tried to turn them, and discarded them into a box between his feet. He glanced up at Willie, snapped, "Don't stand there gawking, dump 'em and run along," and resumed the regular smothered clank of key into lock, key into lock, key into lock. The air was fetid and smoky. Willie dumped his keys on the captain's bed and hastened from the room.

THE CAINE MUTINY

It was still raining next morning when the Caine entered Apra Harbor in Guam, and the craggy hills of the island were misty grey. The ship tied up at a mooring buoy, alongside a new 2,200-ton destroyer, the Harte. As soon as the lines were secured, Queeg ordered armed guards posted every 20 feet along the port side, to prevent anybody from passing the key across to some friend on the destroyer. He also sent Jorgenson over to the Harte, requesting the chief censor to notify the Caine's captain if any keys appeared in the mail on the Harte.

The censor, a skinny lieutenant with black-rimmed hollow eyes, looked at Jorgenson as though he suspected him of being insane, and made him repeat the request twice. Then he reluctantly nodded.

That evening the Captain called a meeting in the wardroom. When Willie came in the room was crowded with officers, chiefs and first-class petty officers ranged around the table, most of them standing. Queeg, at the head, was rolling the balls, smoking, and silently studying several red crayon diagrams spread before him on the table. He began to outline his search plan. He had worked up a scheme for herding the men topside, stripping and searching them by groups, and returning them below to spaces that had meantime been searched. The point of the arrangement was that at no time could the missing key be moved from an unsearched to a searched space; and in this respect, Willie perceived, the plan was ingenious and effective. He felt a little sorry for Queeg. The captain was transformed with pleasant excitement; he seemed genuinely happy for the first time in many months. (To Be Continued.)

S. C. JOHNSON & SON, LTD., BRANTFORD, ONTARIO

but not the full story!

UNTIL YOU READ these words you might not guess that this is a school corridor during a recent air-raid drill.

Until you read further you might not realize that this is only one brief moment of a much bigger story.

A whole city was involved in the drill! What else happened? What were the headaches? The satisfactions? What did the people say and do?

A picture, a headline, a brief announcement can whet your appetite for news, but cannot satisfy your hunger for the whole story.

It takes many words to bring you all you want to know. Words bring meaning, words bring news. Newspapers bring news.

Only the newspaper brings you full stories day after day—pictures and sufficient words.

Only the newspaper can bring you the full story as soon as your appetite is aroused. Fast, without delay.

• This goes for advertising, too. The brief message that hangs in the air... or the brief headline here or there... may indeed have a momentary interest.

But the newspaper ad carries the brass-tacks quality, the urgency of the newspaper itself.

Like a news item, the ad can be examined and re-examined. Can be read any time. Anywhere. Can be clipped and carried in a pocket or pocketbook.

Like the news, the ads themselves have the same important local quality. No other medium can match this quality.

Add to all this the fact that newspapers reach everybody in town, and you know why the newspaper is the nation's most powerful advertising medium.

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Baby got diaper-rash?

You can help prevent it with the triple action bleach—Perfex

Doctors recommend the regular use of Perfex bleach in diaper washing to help prevent and cure diaper-rash because Perfex kills the germs that cause the rash. Those diapers will look much cleaner, too—because safe and gentle Perfex-bleach will make them spotlessly white. For fresher, hygienically clean diapers—for added health protection for your baby—use the triple-value bleach—Perfex triple action bleach—in daily diaper washing.

Always reach for the triple action bleach...

FINAL BULLETINS

New Try to Free Canadians in China

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP)—Another attempt to repatriate more than 100 Canadian civilians being held in Communist China will be made next month by the Canadian Red Cross.

Dr. W. Stuart Stanbury, the society's commissioner, said today in an interview he will go to Geneva next month to confer with officers of the Chinese Red Cross on repatriating the Canadians.

$3,900,000 Comox Airport Contract

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—The defense production department today announced contracts awarded during the first two weeks of November totalled $18,000,000 worth of defense orders.

Biggest was a $3,900,000 contract for the construction of cantilever hangar at the R.C.A.F. station at Comox, B.C. The contract went to Dawson and Hall Ltd., Vancouver.

Early Start on Seaway Work Seen

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—Transport Minister Chevrier said today in the Commons he is confident the St. Lawrence River hydro-seaway project will start in the "not-too-distant future."

WALL OF PREJUDICE?

Soviet Plane Service Poor

Exclusive on Vancouver Island

Following is one of a series of articles by a well-known Montreal editor and publisher who spent September behind the Iron Curtain with an invitation to the World Peace Congress in Peking. Filion is editor of the Le Devoir, a French language newspaper noted for its controversial attitude on current problems.

BY GERARD FILION

Copyright 1952, Canada Wide Feature Service

"Here, in Siberia," said the airport manager in Irkutsk, "we only fly in daylight for reasons of security."

Yet, from Irkutsk to Moscow, on our trip we flew strictly at night. This gives you, in a nutshell, a fair idea of the fantastic lack of punctuality in schedules of Soviet civil airlines. You're travelling in the dark. You never know in advance at what time you will board the airplane, what or when will be the next stop or at what time you will reach your ultimate destination.

Filion

In the West, we have become accustomed to the punctual schedules of civil airlines. In Soviet Russia the opposite is true. If my experience in flying aboard red-starred airliners from Prague to Peking and back typifies civil air service.

Al-France posts a time of 38 hours flying from Paris to Tokyo. The planes of KLM (Dutch) cover the distance from Holland to Indonesia in less than 48 hours. Consider that it took us four days to fly from Moscow to Peking and six days from Peking back to Paris.

I have flown in the airlines of Trans-Canada, Air France, Sabena and Pan American Airways. In comparison the Soviet planes are as outmoded as the horse-and-buggy beside a 1952 limousine.

On my trip I touched at Prague, Warsaw, Minsk, Moscow, Kazan, Sverdlovsk, Omsk, Krasnoyarsk, Novosibirsk, Irkutsk, Ulan, Bator, Sain-Shanda and Peking. During all these travels we were flown in nothing but two-motor planes, with a capacity of 12 or 14 passengers. Only once, at Irkutsk, did I see a four-motor plane.

AIRBORNE AUSTERITY

The airplanes are strictly functional, being equipped only with the bare essentials. A fuselage, wings, motors and seats. No concessions are made either to the comfort or the security of passengers, no safety belt is provided for landings and take-offs, no blankets are provided against the cold and the air-conditioning is often defective. It's either too hot or too cold; nobody cares. No hot meals are served.

NEWSPRINT PRICE UP $10 A TON IN CANADA

Noose For Czechs

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 27 (Reuters)—The Czech Communist regime today ordered the hangman's noose for 11 one-time party chiefs doomed in the greatest purge trial yet staged by the Iron Curtain state.

The remaining three of the 14 on trial were jailed for life.

Rudolf Slansky, once secretary-general of the Communist party in Czechoslovakia, and Vladimir Clementis, former foreign minister, both received the death sentence.

The sentences were announced today by the official state radio in Prague after a six-day trial. All 14 pleaded guilty and confessed to all the charges thrown at them.

They were accused of almost everything in the Communist book: spying for the West, plotting with Yugoslavia, sabotaging the Communist economy and for the first time in a Communist country—they were openly charged with Zionism.

The trial was sprinkled daily with charges of an anti-Jewish character and has drawn strong protests from the state of Israel. Slansky is 51. Clementis 50. All but three of the defendants are Jews. The violent attacks on Zionism during the week-long trial was reported to have unleashed a wave of terror through other east European Communist states, where many other Jews hold high places.

Vancouver Stocks Closing Prices

Stocks were mostly unchanged price-wise in light turnover on Vancouver exchange in the final session today.

Lacking the lead of the New York market, closed today, industrial and base metals were trendless.

Western oils were slightly lower and featureless. In the mines, Pacific Nickel sold at 87¢; Quatsino 59¢. In the western oils, Royalite traded at 14½¢; Continental 14¢; Trans Empire 13.20¢.

Washington Avenue Home Guttered

City firemen fought fierce flames which devoured the interior and furnishings of the Max Miller home, 3103 Washington Avenue, today. But in few minutes between the time they were summoned and the moment their equipment was brought into play, Mr. and Mrs. Miller and their four-year-old son lost their small frame dwelling. Mrs. Miller and Richard, her little boy who cried alarm, are pictured inset. (Times Photos by Bill Halkett.)

MOTHER, SON FLEE BURNING DWELLING

Mrs. Max Miller had time only to see her four-year-old son to safety, snatch down the phone to call firemen and pull a sweater over her nightgown before fleeing from flames which destroyed her home today.

The house at 3103 Washington Avenue, of wood construction, and almost all its furnishings, are considered a total loss. Their value is estimated at $5,000, including furniture, partly covered by insurance.

Martin Blasts Soviets

Canada Presses Truce in Korea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 27 (CP)—Canada, in hope that the Chinese Communists and North Koreans want peace, today urged prompt United Nations approval of an Indian peace plan for Korea despite Russian rejection.

Health Minister Paul Martin, leader of the Canadian delegation who first publicly suggested the formula which became the basis of the Indian plan, told the U.N. political committee that it should not haggle over non-essentials.

He struck hard at Foreign Minister Vishinsky of Russia for his rejection of a "sincere effort to find a solution which would lead to an armistice in Korea."

Martin recalled that Vishinsky said at the last assembly he "laughed all night" over suggestions made for settlement of the disarmament question.

"Surely he cannot long escape the judgment before the bar of world opinion," Martin added.

"It is the hope of most of us here and of the millions of people who we represent that our deep-rooted desire for peace in Korea is shared by our adversaries in the present conflict," the minister stated.

Latest Boost Raises Base Area Cost to $133

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP)—Abitibi Power and Paper Co. Ltd. is advising its Canadian customers that the price of their newsprint will be increased $10 a ton, effective Jan. 1.

The increase is the same as that put into effect for United States customers last June 15, which did not apply in Canada.

Some other Canadian newsprint producers are also understood to have advised their customers of the increase.

Under a $10 increase the Canadian base-area price will be $122 a ton. Canadian publishers also pay a federal -10-per-cent sales tax on all but the transportation part of the price.

Accordingly, their newsprint cost, with the increase, will be about $133 a ton in the base area, with higher prices in other parts of Canada.

The United States price remains at $126 a ton, landed in New York, with higher prices in various regions.

Board Proposes 16c Hike for Rail Workers

Minority Would Offer 26c Increase Against 45c Demand; Other Differences

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—The majority report of a federal conciliation board today recommended an average wage increase of 16 cents an hour for non-operating railway workers engaged in a four-month dispute with the companies.

A minority report proposed an average increase of 26 cents an hour.

Unions representing the 125,000 non-operating employees—those who do not actually run the trains—have been asking an across-the-board increase of 45 cents an hour.

In Montreal today more than 100 railway union representatives went into closed sessions to study the majority report of the federal conciliation board.

Spokesman for the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, in dispute with the unions over the wage issues, said a joint statement is in preparation but may not be issued until Friday.

Besides splitting on the major wage issue, the three-man board also differed on other points at stake, though it agreed to recommend the union's demand for the check-off of dues.

The majority report of Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada and Paul Smith, company nominee, ruled as follows:

MAJORITY RECOMMENDATIONS

1. An average wage increase of 16 cents an hour, made up of a combination of percentage and cents per hour. Unions asked 45 cents an hour.

2. The check-off of union dues by the railways.

3. Removal of a 1950 contract clause restricting employees' overtime pay in the event of a declared national emergency.

4. No union shop.

5. No escalator wage clause.

6. Effective date of one-year contract when final agreement is reached.

MINORITY RECOMMENDATIONS

1. An average wage increase of 26 cents an hour, also a combination of percentage and cents per hour.

2. An escalator clause to give employees a further increase of one cent an hour for each point rise in the cost-of-living index.

3. The union shop, which would compel employees covered by the contracts to belong to one or another of the unions involved.

4. The check-off.

The majority report is the governing one. However, the findings are not binding. They are merely recommendations for settlement made to the parties through Labor Minister Gregg.

The statesmen met in the cabinet room of 10 Downing Street, Churchill's official residence.

Seven prime ministers, two finance ministers and many lesser officials attended. They will study for the next two weeks plans for putting the Commonwealth on a paying basis and easing the flow of world trade.

LONDON, Nov. 27—The Canadian delegation to the Commonwealth economic conference, delayed at Prestwick, Scotland, overnight by unfavorable flying conditions, arrived at London airport today.

It was some 14 hours late. The party, headed by Prime Minister St. Laurent and Finance Minister Abbott, touched down shortly after Britain's Foreign Secretary Eden and Prime Minister Robert Menzies of Australia.

PREMIER TO FIX DATE OF SESSION NEXT WEEK

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today that the date of the start of the 1953 session of the Legislature will be announced next week.

Name of the new Speaker of the Legislature will be revealed at the same time, he said.

The Premier is awaiting a full cabinet meeting before the final decision is made.
